U.S. May Build 2 Battleships Of 45,000 Tons

Hint Giant Warships Considered Given By Admiral Leahy

Discussion Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new hint the United States navy hopes to start without delay two record-size battleships of possibly 45,000 tons came today from Admiral William Leahy.

The chief of naval operations said "we probably shall discuss this with the House of Representatives appropriations committee" when hearings open this month on the navy's $700,000,000 budget for the next year.

Since Japan formally refused a year ago to give Great Britain, the United States and France any inkling of its intentions, Britain has announced plans to build two battleships of some 40,000 tons each.

The six battleships which the United States has started or for which it has provided initial funds are of 35,000 tons each, armed with nine 16-inch guns.

NEUTRALITY ACT

Indications are growing that the Roosevelt administration soon may ask Congress to overhaul the Neutrality Act.

President Roosevelt evinced dissatisfaction with the law late yesterday, telling reporters it had not contributed to world peace. Instead, he said, it may have been partly responsible for threats of war.

U.S. LABOR TALKS TO RESUME FRIDAY

Preliminary Discussion Held Between C.I.O. And A.F.L. Committees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations peace committees recessed their first joint conference on a settlement of their labor war today with an agreement to meet again in New York city on Friday.

Harry C. Bates, a member of the A.F.L. negotiating committee, disclosed the action of the conferees in a prepared statement to the press, which said:

"The conference made a preliminary canvass of its problems and met briefly with the Secretary of Labor.

"The conference agreed to recess and meet in New York City at 8 p.m., March 10, at which time it will consider proposals made yesterday by the C.I.O. or any other suggestions that might be laid before it."

John L. Lewis, head of the C.I.O. negotiating committee, suggested yesterday a plan for labor peace which would combine the United States' major labor organizations in a united labor movement.

The C.I.O. president appealed to the A.F.L. today for "intelligent analysis" of his proposal.

Lewis made his proposal yesterday at the opening of new C.I.O.-A.F.L. peace negotiations held at the behest of President Roosevelt.

The A.F.L. negotiators yesterday rejected Lewis' suggestion for amalgamating the C.I.O., A.F.L. and the four railroad brotherhoods, which are independent of both the C.I.O. and the A.F.L., into one big union.

SCRAP IRON BAN DISCUSSED

Portland Longshoremen Talk Over Ship Picketing With Employers

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Longshoremen associated with the Congress for Industrial Organizations took 24 hours to talk things over among themselves and then accepted an invitation of the Waterfront Employers' Association today to discuss the blockade of a scrap iron ship by Chinese pickets.

Several hundred Chinese, protesting the transportation of junk metal to Japan, have tied up the Greek steamship Ann Stathatos since Saturday.

Longshoremen recognized the picket line and for several hours declined to load a British grain carrier because police were on the dock.

Job Survey On Island Starts

Improved Employment Service Aim of Labor Department

Foundation for what may eventually be a new employment policy, the government has started an occupational survey of Vancouver Island, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said today.

The survey is being commenced by government officials on Vancouver Island for convenience and will eventually be made province-wide, the minister said.

Purpose of it is to show the number of people in gainful occupations, the seasonal shifts in employment, the types of trained workers mostly used in island industries, and general opportunities for further employment.

The survey is intended to give better direction to the policy of the government employment office. It will indicate at what seasons of the year certain workers may find jobs, show where shortages of some classes of labor exist, and generally improve the efficiency of the employment service.

Mr. Pearson for some years has been considering the occupational survey and at one time proposed an expenditure of $20,000 to make the investigation detailed and complete. This was not appropriated. The present survey will indicate the general trend, however, Mr. Pearson said.

The Bureau of Economics and Statistics has been assigned to the task, and today appealed for the co-operation of employers and employees in providing the information that will make the survey as complete as possible.

Besides assisting the employment service in locating work for applicants, the survey will show where a shortage of labor exists in certain skilled trades. Through its apprenticeship board the government may then direct young men into training for jobs that may be available. It is thus intended as a plan that will co-ordinate the various parts of the government's employment, training and unemployment policies.

20-STORY BUILDING FOR SEATTLE

SEATTLE—Work has been ordered started on a $1,000,000 20-story apartment-hotel on the northeast corner of Seventh Avenue and Seneca Street by Sampel F. Bard, president of the Roosevelt Building Corporation of Los Angeles for Fred T. Sherman, Seattle investor and secretary-treasurer of the Western Warehouse Company.

It will be called The Mark Twain, will occupy the 120-foot square corner directly west of Exeter Apartment Hotel, and will be of steel and concrete construction, with 172 two, three, four and five-room apartments.

The project will employ an average of 1,000 men, working in two shifts, Bard said. The building is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

Stores will occupy the ground level and there will be penthouses on the roof. It will have three floors below the street level, including a double-floor garage.

Worker Loses Foot

VANCOUVER (CP)—Alex Livingstone had one foot amputated in a hospital today after it had been mangled by a 66-inch splitter saw at the United Shingle Mill on Mitchell Island in the Fraser River, where he was working yesterday. His condition was fair.

Few Still Hold Out in Spain's War-within-war

Isolated Communist Group Still Resists Miaja's New Regime

Leaders Surrender

MADRID (AP) — An isolated group of Communist rebels was still holding out desperately tonight against General Jose Miaja's National Defence regime, but the backbone of the two-day uprising had been broken by Miaja's stern measures.

The city was quiet and no gunfire had been heard since morning when the government routed most of the Communist groups with the aid of a few tanks and infantry rushed to strategic points.

GEN. JOSE MIAJA

Although the capitulation in this local war within Spain's civil war was not complete, the government announced by radio early in the afternoon Republican army chiefs involved in the Communist rising had surrendered.

National Defence forces were told to remain at their posts and not to fire unless attacked. The absence of fighting indicated most of the Communist rebels had accepted a Miaja ultimatum to surrender or suffer heavy aerial bombardment.

The Communists had risen against the regime because, they alleged, it intended to capitulate to the Nationalist government of General Francisco Franco, which holds three-fourths of Spain.

ULTIMATUM SENT

Gen. Miaja had sent an ultimatum to the rebels demanding surrender by noon today (4 a.m. P.S.T.). Otherwise, the ultimatum said, they would be bombed into submission.

Machine gun and rifle fire split the darkness before dawn as the Communists waged sporadic war against the three-day-old National Defence Council.

The Communist revolt developed yesterday after Gen. Miaja had pledged himself to seek a "worthy peace" with Gen. Franco to end the 28-month siege of Madrid and the civil war.

HOTEL STRIKE IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pickets circled in front of Washington hotels today, protesting the refusal of managements to agree to a closed shop for kitchens, dining-rooms and bar employees.

Union officials, who ordered lines thrown around 13 major hotels after a 5 a.m. vote to strike, said 2,200 workers were involved. Hotel managers said patrons were not greatly inconvenienced.

Malahat Work Started Today

Work was started this morning by the Associated Engineering Company on the reconstruction of a section of the Malahat Drive near the summit.

Approximately three-quarters of a mile of road will be improved, mostly rock work, under contract from the Department of Public Works. The company was awarded the contract on a bid of slightly less than $30,000.

The project will be completed in time for this year's tourist season.

250,000 WANT TO SEE POPE CROWNED

Rush for Tickets For Ceremony in Vatican City Next Sunday

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican officials today said more than 250,000 persons are seeking admission tickets to the coronation of Pope Pius XII next Sunday.

One source said the cardinals themselves were limited to three tickets each on account of the demand. Engineers estimated 150,000 persons would fill St. Peter's Piazza, and L'Osservatore Romano said the Pontiff had decided to be crowned on the balcony of St. Peter's in order to accommodate as many as possible.

Pope Pius XII today received Rafaele Cardinal Rossi, secretary to the Consistorial Congregation, giving support to reports of an early consistory to fill vacancies in the College of Cardinals.

General audiences at which newlyweds and other members of the public are admitted will be resumed next week.

DUKE AMBASSADOR

LONDON (CP-Havas) — The King today appointed the Duke of Norfolk, premier duke and hereditary Earl Marshal of England, his ambassador extraordinary to the coronation of Pope Pius XII at the Vatican next Sunday. The duke is a Roman Catholic.

Claims Nazi Plan To Attack Holland

French Writer Says Documents Show Threat To Switzerland Also

PARIS (CP-Havas) — Citing documents he claims to have obtained, Pierre Bernus, foreign affairs writer, reported today in the Journal des Debats that Chancellor Hitler is planning to attack The Netherlands, and eventually Switzerland, to force satisfaction of his demands on Great Britain and France.

The commentator for the moderate conservative newspaper said his documents outlined the complete plan of the Rome-Berlin axis for 1939. He linked the occupation by the Japanese of the island of Hainan and the trouble in Palestine with the alleged plans of Hitler and Premier Mussolini.

"In the program which he had drawn up a few weeks ago Hitler envisaged decisive action for a date subsequent to the civil war in Spain," the writer said. "Italy would then formulate officially her African and European demands, which the Fuehrer would support in a great speech in which he would present his own in the form of an ultimatum.

LIGHTNING-BLOW PLAN

"The lightning-blow operation, which in Hitler's mind should lead to the immediate capitulation of the western powers, would consist of a sudden attack against Holland, and eventually against Switzerland.

"The aim of this plan would be above all to seize territorial guarantees. On the pretext that this was only provisional occupation and not conquest, Hitler would enumerate his demands and ask France and Great Britain to give him satisfaction.

"It is important that without delay and in the clearest fashion the Chancellor be warned that these calculations are established on false premises and that execution of such a plan would lead Germany to catastrophe."

Pierre Bernus has been diplomatic correspondent of the Journal des Debats since before the Great War and is known for the reliability of his articles. The Journal des Debats, oldest Paris daily, is one of the great French Catholic conservative newspapers.

British Assist Plan to Stabilize Chinese Dollar

London Banks Contribute £5,000,000 To New Fund

North China Test

LONDON (AP) — Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced in the House of Commons today the Chinese government had formed a £10,000,000 ($46,912,000) currency stabilization fund, to which two British banks contributed £5,000,000.

"The stability of the Chinese dollar," he said, "is a matter of great importance to this country in view of our financial and economic relations with China."

He intimated the British Treasury would guarantee the £5,000,000 subscribed by the British banks and seek Parliament's approval of the guarantee.

TEST STAGED

SHANGHAI (AP) — Japan's power in north China appears to be headed for a test in a vital fiscal battle between the Chinese government dollar and the Japanese-sponsored Federal Reserve banknotes.

The climax is expected on Friday, when circulation of the Chinese dollar will be prohibited in north China.

On the outcome of this contest—removed from the far-flung military battlelines—foreign observers believe hangs the decision as to whether Japan will be enabled to clinch economic domination of north China.

They believe it will decide also whether Japan can manipulate currencies and trade to an extent not only to insure Japanese domination of markets in the future but to force north China to pay a portion of Japan's costly martial adventure.

The money struggle is given flavor by the fact the Chinese dollar is partially supported by the United States and Great Britain as against the yen-backed notes of the North China Federal Reserve Bank.

ADDED WAR CHEST

Foreign businessmen, severely threatened by the fiscal regulations, estimated Wednesday that successful enforcement, including forcible circulation of the new currency, would add millions of yen to Japan's war chest.

Under normal trading conditions it was estimated Japan's profit would be between 75,000,000 and 100,000,000 Chinese dollars ($11,850,000 to $15,800,000) annually.

Severe fighting continued in northern Kiangsu Province, where the Japanese were seeking to wipe out a no-man's land between the Nanking-Shanghai and the Peiping districts.

3 Die In Airplane Crash In Quebec

Searchers in Chibougamau Area Find Bodies Of J. Stadler, CBC Engineer, and 2 Others

ST. FELICIEN, Que. (CP) — Deaths of three men in an airplane crash were disclosed today in a brief message received at this town in the Chibougamau mining area of northeastern Quebec.

First word of the accident failed to give any details other than to say searchers had recovered the bodies of Capt. Herve St. Martin of St. Felicien, his pilot, Oscar Therrien, also of this town, and John Stadler of Westmount.

The plane, a Waco, crashed into a nearby lake, from which the bodies were recovered.

The trio left Sunday on a 100-mile flight to Lac de la Croix and when they failed to report three other planes set out in search. It was reported the St. Martin plane was found half submerged in the ice.

Stadler, son of a noted Canadian mining engineer, had come up here for a holiday and was being flown to Lac de la Croix. He was on holidays from his post as executive assistant to the assistant general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and had come here less than a week ago.

Prior to joining the CBC Stadler had served as consulting engineer with the Quebec Electricity Commission.

St. Martin, veteran flier in his middle 40's, operated his own flying company and flew regularly in the rich Chicougamau district. He learned his early flying during the Great War when he served overseas with the Flying Corps as a mechanic.

LIQUOR CHARGES IN MANITOBA DENIED

M.P.P.'s Claim 90 Per Cent Bootlegged False, Says Attorney-General

WINNIPEG (CP)—Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General, today denied a statement made in the Manitoba Legislature yesterday by Herbert Sulkers, C.C.F., St. Clements, that 90 per cent of the liquor consumed in the province came from illicit sources. Mr. Major said the charge was unfair to Manitoba and to law enforcement officers.

Since 1929 the number of convictions for liquor offences had been cut almost in half, the Attorney-General declared, adding he had written the St. Clements member asking for the facts on which his charges were based. Last year there were only 300 convictions compared with 1,715 in 1929.

Mr. Sulkers, who claimed only 10 per cent of the liquor consumed in the province was sold through the liquor commission, said the law enforcement bodies were doing all they could to uphold the law, and the only way to control the situation would be to lower the commission's liquor prices.

The convocation sermon will be given Sunday morning, March 12, in Rockefeller Chapel, by President Hutchins.

Final Proposal For Palestine

British Peace Plan Before Conference in London Next Week

LONDON (AP)—Great Britain tonight notified the Arabs and Jews who have sought unsuccessfully in a month-old London conference to reach an agreement on the future of Palestine, that she would draft her own "final plan" and submit it to both sides "early next week."

A British government spokesman said that all negotiations would be suspended pending elaboration of the plan, which would be put to both sides "for acceptance or rejection."

He emphasized Great Britain "would not countenance any substantial modifications" in the plan once it was submitted.

It was believed therefore the final plan would not vary much from the British "suggestion" put before both the Jews and Arabs ten days ago, foreshadowing the establishment of an independent Palestinian state in which Jews would form a permanent minority.

School Cost Campaign

VANCOUVER (CP) — Associated property owners of Vancouver at a meeting last night approved a province-wide campaign to have the costs of education taken over by the British Columbia government. Their case for the change will be laid before public bodies in all parts of the province with a request for support.

WHICH CAME FIRST? IT WAS THE EGG

HARTFORD, Conn.—It's all settled now. The egg came first.

This answer to the old, old chicken-or-egg controversy is offered by Dr. Edward L. Troxell, of Trinity College here, in the new issue of The Scientific Monthly.

Away back yonder, tens of millions of years ago, says Dr. Troxell, a scaly reptile laid an egg. In due time it hatched, but what came out had a kind of downy fuzz instead of the old-fashioned scales. One of the sudden evolutionary changes called a mutation had taken place. The strange new creature was the beginning of birds.

But even before the egg was laid, the change from reptile to bird had in effect already taken place. Genetic changes are made when male and female germ cells unite, at the very first moment of egg formation. So it must have been determined for feathers, the distinguishing mark of birds, when the beginnings of that fateful egg were assembled by two reptile parents who (though they knew it not) were collaborating to produce an offspring radically unlike themselves, and thereby launch a biological revolution.

Although a reptile laid the egg that produced the first bird, that egg was not a reptile egg, Dr. Troxell insists. An egg is only the first step, the one-celled stage, in the development of the new individual. Since the particular egg in question produced a bird, it was a bird egg. And it came before the bird.

Britain to Train Army for Swift Action in Europe

Hore-Belisha Tells House Expeditionary Force Being Prepared

Record Budget

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — Far-reaching reforms for Great Britain's army, including establishing it on a basis for immediate service on the continent in wartime, were announced by Rt. Hon. Leslie Hore-Belisha, Secretary for War, in the House of Commons today.

"We are on the verge of a financial year," said the minister, "in which we start with 75,000 officers and men in the territorial anti-aircraft units, a year during which every existing medium and heavy battery which they man will have its war complement of guns and every searchlight company its searchlights."

Introducing the army's 1939 estimates, totaling £161,133,000 ($755,714,000), a peacetime record, the minister declared the army will be expanded and equipped for continental service and powerful independent reserves of military power established throughout the Empire, particularly in Malta, Palestine and India.

He announced 1,000 officers and 16,000 men of the regular army reserve will be recalled for training in September, when Britain will hold the biggest manoeuvres of mechanized troops in her history. The purpose is to give the former soldiers fresh training.

The anti-aircraft section of the territorial army will be increased. A plan has been perfected to speed up mobilization on the outbreak of war.

NOT HALF-HEARTED

Recalling Prime Minister Chamberlain's declaration of Anglo-French solidarity, Mr. Hore-Belisha declared: "It makes it incumbent on us to consider and prepare for the use of a field force in certain eventualities."

"If we are involved in war, our contribution, and the way in which we can best make it, will not be half-hearted, nor upon any theory of limited liability. Conservations between ourselves and the French concern always plans for defence, not aggression."

The War Minister said home defence would remain the paramount consideration of his department. In the last 12 months officers and men of anti-aircraft units had been doubled, gun emplacements increased and store and mobiliziation depots built.

The anti-aircraft corps will be increased in 1939 from five to seven divisions. The number of batteries will be increased by between 50 and 100 per cent. A new factory has been started to build 3.7-inch anti-aircraft guns and delivery of 40-millimetre light anti-aircraft guns will start in the autumn.

As a result of a recent government decision Britain's territorial army is being trained and equipped "to meet the event of war in the European theatre," he said.

LESSONS IN TANKS

The supply of light tanks is adequate, the minister continued, but larger tanks which incorporate "lessons which have been learned from other countries"—presumably the Spanish civil war—"are only coming into production. The Bren gun has been issued on a war scale to all infantry machine-gun battalions of the regular army at home and Empire garrisons. The same applies to the anti-tank rifle."

Mr. Hore-Belisha said the army is being shaped along these lines:

A regular army of four infantry divisions and two armored divisions.

A territorial army of nine infantry divisions, three motorized divisions and one armored division. In addition there are two territorial cavalry brigades and a number of unbrigaded units, making more than 19 divisions altogether.

These, of course, do not include anti-aircraft and coast defence units of the territorials, which are primarily for home defence.

TEAR GAS ENDS LOS ANGELES CLASH

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police tear-gas, hurled as at least half a dozen persons were hurt in street fighting, broke up a belligerent line of radical pickets last night at a Catholic-sponsored meeting which praised the Franco regime in Spain.

The riotous demonstration occurred in front of the Wilshire Bell Club Theatre, where Aileen O'Brien, formerly a nurse with the Spanish Nationalist army, spoke under the auspices of the Catholic Theatre Guild with the authorization of Archbishop John J. Cantwell.

Two police officers suffered eye burns from the tear-gas bombs, some of which were thrown back at police by the 200 or more pickets.

Jostled as they tried to leave the meeting, John Ganey, 26, was struck in the forehead with a stick and Miss Marily O'Brien, 17, not related to the nurse, was knocked down and suffered a sprained knee.

The first clash, police said, started when Catholic students and others tried to open up entrances through the picket line. Ignoring a police demand to disperse, the demonstration continued. Officers replied with tear-gas.

Verdict Blames Anesthetic Error

Jury at Calgary Inquest Finds Wrong Connection Caused Death

CALGARY (CP)—A coroner's jury, after more than two hours' deliberation, today returned a verdict finding that Mrs. Alice Duxbury, 46, of Calgary, came to her death in the Calgary General Hospital February 27 by asphyxiation from nitrous oxide caused by wrongly connected anesthetic machine tubes, and that Mrs. Mabel A. Watson, 25, of Ardenode, Alta., died in the same institution the same day from a cause undetermined.

Responsibility in connection with the death of Mrs. Duxbuy could not be placed, the jury reported.

The verdict on Mrs. Duxbury's death recommended that tubes connecting the anesthetic machines be fixed with fittings that shall not be interchangeable. It also asked that definite responsibility be fixed for proper supervision and setting up of the equipment.

"We find death was caused by asphyxiation from nitrous oxide gas due to the anesthetic machine being wrongly connected," the jury reported, "the nitrous oxide supply being connected to the oxygen valve on the machine and the oxygen supply being connected to the nitrous oxide valve. Evidence failed to disclose who was responsible for making this wrong connection."

STAFF CLEARED

The verdict on Mrs. Watson's death was that "from evidence submitted, we are unable to determine the actual cause of death. We find no blame can be attached to the equipment, the supplies connected therewith, nor the staff of the hospital.

"We find doctors in charge used the accepted standard practice in preparation and the conduct of the operation and did everything in their power to preserve life."

Coroner G. R. Johnson remarked "there was a mistake made by someone" in regard to Mrs. Dubury's death. "As to whom, that is not so obvious," he said. "Possibly that never will be known because one might forget, but it is hard to conceive that the person who did it has no recollection of making that mistake."

5 CHILDREN DIE IN HALIFAX FIRE

HALIFAX (CP)—The second serious fire here in less than a week left five children, the oldest aged seven, dead today. They were burned to death after oil dropped accidentally by a child on the red-hot register of a hot air furnace last night sent flames roaring through a small wooden house in the city's west end.

On a city still feeling the shock of last Thursday's Queen Hotel fire that took an estimated death toll of 28, the tragedy in the two-story house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Downer and Robert Bobbitt fell heavily.

Resting in a morgue were the charred bodies of Donald Downer, seven; Bruce Downer, four; Buddy Downer, three; Ruby Bobbitt, six, and Cyril Macdonald, seven, only son of Mrs. Ida Macdonald, housekeeper for the Downers.

Eleven-year-old Albert Bobbitt went down the cellar to fill a bottle of oil for the kitchen stove, his brother Donald, 13, related. "He was coming back through the hall when he slipped as he crossed the register over the furnace," said Donald, who escaped with Albert.

"He dropped the bottle. The oil spilled on the grating of the furnace. It was nearly red hot. The oil went puff and the flames shot up the stairs. Then the house was all on fire."

The Bobbitt children's father was at a hockey game with a son, Gerald, 18, when the fire started. Neighbors said the Downers' parents were out. Mrs. Tillie Moran, Bobbitt's housekeeper, was home at the time along with Mrs. Macdonald.

Liberal Caucus

OTTAWA (CP) — Three main subjects discussed at the weekly caucus of Liberal members of the House of Commons and the Senate today were agriculture, radio and refugees, Prime Minister King stated.

Mr. King said he naturally could not give details of the discussions because such caucuses were designed for free expression of the viewpoints of party members.

It was understood, however, the caucus discussed the trend of the government's wheat policy, control of radio broadcasting and the plan to settle several hundred families of Sudeten German political refugees in Canada in the spring.

Backs B.C. Scheme

REGINA — Hon. J. M. Alberta Marble Used

EDMONTON — Alberta marble will be put to commercial use for the first time when rock from a quarry south of the Ghost River dam, west of Calgary, will be used in the interior decorations of a department store under construction here. Ontario Move For Insurance

Bill Soon to Enable Province to Join Federal Aid for Jobless

TORONTO (CP) — A bill to enable the Ontario government to enter into any necessary arrangement with the federal government to provide unemployment insurance "at the earliest possible moment" will be presented at the legislative session which was opened this afternoon.

Forecast of introduction of the legislation was contained in the Speech from the Throne read at the start of the third session of the 20th Legislature by Lieutenant-Governor Albert Matthews. The need for such insurance had been demonstrated forcibly and the government welcomed the proposal of the Dominion to enact enabling legislation in order that there should be no delay.

It will be proposed to the Legislature that the Mining Act be amended to help prospectors, to promote health and safety of mine employees, and to aid in preventing the high-grading of gold and other precious metals.

The government will ask the Legislature to pass a resolution requesting the Dominion Parliament to repeal the Canada Temperance Act in so far as it applies to Ontario.

The request to the federal government is intended to end chaotic conditions in liquor law enforcement in certain areas, particularly Manitoulin Island, that have resulted from court decisions holding the Canada Temperance Act is more restrictive legislation than the Ontario Liquor Control Act.

NO LAW ENFORCED

The C.T.A. has been ruled to be in effect on Manitoulin Island. The result has been that no liquor law is actually being enforced, the federal government contending it is Ontario's responsibility to enforce the C.T.A. and Ontario answering that it would not.

The speech, longer than usual, outlined many legislative proposals. It opened with a reference to the gratification felt that "this assembly will have the high privilege of expressing to His Majesty in person the loyalty and devotion we all share.".

"The approaching visit of Their Majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, to this assembly will make the present session the most historic since the Ontario Legislature was constituted in 1867," it said.

It was announced a new method of equalizing municipal assessments would be embodied in the legislation. Another measure affecting municipalities will be one requiring all elected municipal officials to take the oath of allegiance.

Legislation, "designed to give a certain measure of financial relief to the mining municipalities of Northern Ontario will be submitted," the speech said. (These municipalities have persistently sought a larger share of taxes levied on producing mines and properties operated by the mining companies.)

RELIEF GROWTH

The speech said early 1938 indications for improved business conditions were not continued and there was $22,000,000 spent in unemployment relief, and "unless there is a marked industrial improvement, this sum is likely to be exceeded in 1939."

"Despite these increased burdens, the credit of the province continues to stand at the high level it has enjoyed during recent years and its bonds are now selling at the highest point in history," said the speech. "It is perhaps not without significance that during the crisis of last September, Ontario bonds held their position better than the senior securities of any other public authority."

Legislation aimed to remedy "a great lack of co-ordination and uniformity in municipal policing" was forecast. Considerable study has been given the subject. The provincial police force was in a high state of efficiency, and in all but two counties had taken over the duties of high county constables.

"A survey of the entire field of the administration of justice, with a view to simplifying and facilitating procedure, and effecting economies," was expected to be completed within a few months.

LOGGING BLACKLIST CHARGE DENIED

Pearson Says Vancouver Claim Not Borne Out By Relief Records

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, in a letter to the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council read at the council's meeting last night, said charges of wholesale blacklisting of loggers by employers in the lumbering industry were not borne out by unemployment relief records.

The letter was in reply to representations made by the council in which it was charged that a certain loggers' employment agency used the "blacklist."

"There is not evidence of recorded blacklisting, although there is no doubt that this agency will only employ those persons they feel satisfied will be acceptable to the members of their association to whom they are sending help," the minister wrote.

Mr. Pearson said that while a public inquiry could not be held into the affairs of a legal agency, the superintendent of the Employment Service of Canada could hold an official probe.

"No law in the province prevents an employer from refusing to employ persons not acceptable," the minister's letter said.

Foreign Affairs Debate

Commons, Which Heard King-Manion Exchange Yesterday, Will Return to Subject

OTTAWA (CP) — Foreign affairs will provide material for a sharp debate at the present session of Parliament, according to indications forthcoming in the House of Commons yesterday when Prime Minister King and the Conservative leader, Hon. R. J. Manion, clashed briefly but sharply on the subject.

The exchange grew out of a routine motion of the government to give government business precedence over private members' resolutions on Mondays for the rest of the session. It proved informative to the House at large, however, for it brought from Mr. King a revelation he had considered the danger of war so imminent six weeks ago he had shown certain official dispatches to Dr. Manion.

Since that time, however, the skies had cleared somewhat, he said, and the foreign offices of the world were more hopeful now than for a long time.

Dr. Manion served notice he later would assail the government's attitude on foreign policy at the time of the Munich crisis last September. He said Mr. King should have called the leaders of all opposition parties in the House into conference at the time. Prime Minister Chamberlain had done so in Great Britain.

The Conservative leader described Mr. King's recent action in confiding certain information on foreign affairs to him as an example of the Prime Minister's "slippery tactics." He was compelled to withdraw the word "slippery," but insisted the Prime Minister's only object was to put himself in the position where he could say he had consulted the opposition leader.

MENTIONS QUESTIONS

Actually, said Dr. Manion, the danger of war was no greater now than at any time for months.

He charged Mr. King with trying to frighten the House with a "phantom of war" last Wednesday when there was no basis for such a fear, in order to avoid answering questions as to whether he approved the granting of defence contracts to government "pets."

The Prime Minister, he argued, had lectured the opposition for holding up government business and was now proposing to shut off discussion on private members' proposals more important than the government measures before the House.

Such "futile arguments," he said, led to "stirring up of feeling against democracy," to the Leadership League of George McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, and to the "new demagogism" of Hon. W. D. Herridge, former Canadian Minister to the United States.

Characterizing Mr. King's plea for progress in the session as "clap-trap and humbug," the Conservative leader challenged the government to introduce some important legislation touching the problems of youth, unemployment, debt and taxation.

In reply, Mr. King said it was clear the Opposition wished to delay business as much as possible. The United States trade treaty was before the House and was the most important matter to come before it in years. As soon as it was approved the Defence Purchasing Board Bill would be introduced and the government hoped to bring the budget down early. Delay had been caused by the Opposition's insistence on discussing munitions contracts, which were to be investigated by a committee, before the committee inquiry and before the facts were obtained.

Private members had been allotted more time this session than since 1932, said Mr. King.

The Prime Minister said he had not used the word "war" in speaking about the business of the House last Wednesday. But he had nothing to retract from his assertion members should get on with their business as they might have more serious matters to consider.

"I suppose there is no more difficult position in which a leader of a government can be placed than to know just how far it is advisable to go in warning members of Parliament or the country of a situation as it exists, and how far it is wise to remain silent," said Mr. King.

"I remember last September that members of the Conservative Party in this country were pretty strong in their attack on myself. They said that knowing that a situation which was coming along was going to be very critical, I did not take the country more into my confidence and tell them to be prepared for an emergency. . . .

"I say to my honorable friend the Leader of the Opposition that I question very much if he would have wished to receive dispatches which were more serious than those which I showed to him."

ATTENDANCE AT SITTINGS

When Dr. Manion charged the Prime Minister did not lead the House, that he was not in his seat "10 per cent of the time this session," Mr. King voiced a denial. He had said that in previous years it was impossible for the Prime Minister to perform the duties of his office and be in the House all the time, and he repeated it now. He told the Opposition leader he was in the House always during important debates and at question time. He was merely following the example set by the leader of the government in Great Britain.

Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, said Dr. Manion objected to criticism of Parliament by "leadership league and others," but the Conservative leader gave them some material by delaying the business of the House. He said no one would suffer from the motion passing as private members would have ample opportunity to discuss any or all grievances.

The House passed the motion, so there will be no more private members' days during this session. Private members' business will only be discussed for one hour on Tuesday and Friday nights.

QUESTIONS ON SHELLS AND RIFLES

MacNeil Addresses Further Queries to Mackenzie in Commons

OTTAWA (CP) — Continuing his searching inquiries into the government's armament contracts C. Grant MacNeil, C.C.F., Vancouver North, will ask Defence Minister Mackenzie five questions of which he gave notice yesterday on the Commons order paper.

Majority of the British Columbia member's questions concern manufacture of shells and the "educational" contract awarded to the Montreal Construction Supply and Equipment Limited. Mr. MacNeil wants to know the value of machinery purchased for the company to use in machining shell bodies, whether tenders were called for the machinery and what the cost will be.

Other questions ask the number of workers employed at the Dominion arsenals at Lindsay, Ont., and Quebec and what work is being done. Mr. MacNeil specifically wants to know whether the Quebec Arsenal in the last three years has manufactured any 18-pounder high explosive or 4.5-inch howitzer high explosive shell bodies and, if so, what the cost for each unit was.

Another question asks if the Defence Department has purchased rifles in the last three years and where they were purchased and if any arrangements have been made to obtain guns other than the Bren gun.

Mr. MacNeill also asks with what firms arrangements have been completed for obtaining aircraft, and whether contracts were awarded on the basis of competitive bids or by selection.

Successor for Hitler Reported Chosen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Adolf Hitler's one-time commanding officer stated here yesterday the "succession" of the Reichfuehrer "has been fully arranged," but that "no names have been announced."

The statement came from Captain Fritz Wiedemann, Hitler's personal adjutant and "trouble-shooter," on his arrival to assume his new post as German consul-general here. He did not amplify his remark about the German Fuehrer.

He succeeds Baron Manfred von Killinger, recalled to Germany to train Nazi diplomats.

Captain Wiedemann declined comment on reports Germany was seeking co-operation with Mexico and Japan in the Pacific basin.

Sunday Work Penalties

OTTAWA (CP)—A bill to tighten up the Lord's Day Act received third reading in the House of Commons last night. Sponsored by H. E. Brunelle, Liberal, Champlain, Que., it provides jail sentences for officials and directors of companies which require their employees to work on Sundays.

The bill now goes to the Senate, which last session made changes which were unacceptable to Mr. Brunelle and led him to withdraw the measure.

Victoria Cutting Taxation

WHEN ANDREW McGAVIN FIRST asked the electors to send him to the City Hall as their Mayor he made no flamboyant promises, drew no roseate pictures of a Utopia he would guarantee; he told them in simple fashion that if they would entrust him with the job, he would concentrate largely on the reduction of taxation. He has cut taxes in each of the last two years. And the indications are that when he and his colleagues on the council have finished their examination of the current financial position of the municipality the mill rate will undergo still another scaling down.

Mayor McGavin is nothing if not a realist. He knows as well as and probably better than most people that the taxpaying population of Victoria will increase or decrease as the annual mill rate descends or ascends. And we may as well face the fact that during the last ten years population within the city limits has been more or less static. Only in comparatively recent months has a marked improvement in home building set in. The construction of dwellings, on the other hand, has gone on apace in the neighboring municipalities—because of a lower tax rate. This is not to say that, in the long run, with all the additional facilities of city life taken into consideration, some of these investors would not have profited more had they built in Victoria proper. It is merely to emphasize the natural inclination of any prospective home owner to select two sets of figures—two specifically—for comparison when he is thinking of building a house. These are the tax rate in Victoria and the tax rate outside Victoria. In other words, as the cost of owning a home within the confines of the city itself decreases, so will its population grow, making possible, by the same token, a wider and more equitable distribution of the annual municipal tax load.

The two actual and the current prospective reductions of taxation, moreover, furnish a striking commentary on Mayor McGavin's administration. Few municipalities in the whole of Canada can present a better showing than that of Victoria. No taxpayer, of course, will persuade himself into the belief that our civic finances no longer will produce concern. But that is no reason why full satisfaction should not be extracted from a slowly but surely improving economic condition which has persisted in spite of recurrent fluctuations in the whole continent's business. Well may it be said, then, that Mayor McGavin has done and is doing an excellent job.

Words of Wisdom Unwanted

ONE PASSAGE DURING LAST FRIday's hearing of the House of Commons radio committee does not seem to have attracted the attention which it obviously deserved. It was that in which Mr. Leonard W. Brockington, K.C., chairman of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said that from what he knew of Mr. McCullagh he thought that if the Toronto publisher would sit down with him and talk the question over, the two would end up in agreement. This, of course, had specific reference to the reasons why the CBC denied the publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail the air to expound his personal views in a series of five radio broadcasts over the Canadian network.

Mr. Brockington took, and still takes, the stand that in the case of Mr. McCullagh a large principle was involved, one which naturally could not play second fiddle to minor considerations. As the Toronto publisher desired to discuss, over a public utility, controversial matters, the corporation based its refusal to grant him the facilities he considered essential for his purpose on the ground that freedom of discussion by all sides was the best way to present controversial material. That was what the board had tried to do. And Mr. Brockington elaborated his point this way:

"We would like specially to see a greater opportunity for self-expression given to those classes who can never get to be either owners or controllers of newspapers. Surely there should be no preference for wealth. Freedom of speech was not just the sale of space at $50 a minute. If that were so, then free air would soon degenerate to just a sign outside a filling station."

Mr. McCullagh, of course, had been offered the facilities to debate his subject under the auspices of the national forum free of charge. Through this agency Sir Edward Beatty had discussed the Dominion's railway problem from his standpoint and, on the same broadcast, Mr. R. J. Deachman, M.P., had taken the other side. The Toronto publisher refused this means of expression and advised the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation that he had the money to buy all the time he required.

What has happened in the meantime, his "Canadian Leadership Campaign," the flood of ballots he has let loose in support of his plan, indicates that there was not much chance of Mr. McCullagh sitting down for a chat with such an experienced, far-seeing and understanding public official as Mr. Brockington.

France sells iron ore to Germany, Germany sells airplanes to France, Russia sells oil to Italy, and so on. It all probably comes under the heading of business, as usual.

Fish Traps

THE VANCOUVER CIVIC HARBORS committee is to protest to Ottawa against continuation of salmon traps at Sooke. The action is based on statements from the Pacific Coast Fishermen's Union that it would be possible to use gill nets instead of traps at Sooke. The weak point in this statement is that if it were possible so to do, why are fishermen not there with their nets? The Straits of Juan de Fuca around Sooke are open to all fishermen and the fish traps along the shore do not interfere. Yet none will fish there. The fact is that fishing has been repeatedly tried there and abandoned. The open sea, the heavy tides, the clear phosphorescent water and the fact that the fish do not school when coming in from the ocean around the southern tip of the Island make it impossible, as those who have tried have found out to their cost.

This was also the discovery of Hon. J. E. Michaud, Federal Minister of Fisheries, who came from Ottawa and personally investigated the whole problem at Sooke. Before he came here, as he said in the House of Commons the other day, he was of the opinion that the traps should be abolished. After visiting the area, he changed his mind, convinced that continuation of the Sooke traps was essential if the important and long-established fishing industry on the lower part of this Island was to be saved.

The argument has been advanced that the Sooke traps cut down the number of men in the fishing industry. The fact is that abolition of the traps would not mean the employment of one additional fisherman. Cannery returns show that the labor cost for each trap-caught fish is the same as for each fish taken in a gill net or purse seine. The traps are not used to cut labor costs. They are used at Sooke because there is no other method of taking fish in that area. The Sooke industry has an especially strong case on the labor point. It employs 100 per cent of white men. This contrasts with the industry on the Lower Mainland, which is largely in the hands of Orientals.

Taking Nazi Bible Apart

IN COURSE OF PREPARATION IN LONdon is a book to be entitled "'Mein Kampf' Examined." The task of examination and analysis has been undertaken by Mr. D. N. Pritt, K.C., M.P., a brilliant British author and parliamentarian who spent many years in Germany and is able to contrast pre-war and Hitlerian psychology.

Originally intended to be a work of no more than 90,000 words, Mr. Pritt has discovered that to do the job properly, and do it once and for all, twice the amount of "space" would be required. So he has given full rein to his task and students of international politics, especially the struggle between authoritarianism and democracy, will await with interest the appearance of this new form of standard work.

Mr. Pritt takes the Nazi testament and summarizes its argument page by page; and during the course of the summary he translates verbatim (for the purpose of criticizing them) long passages from the original—passages not included in the current English "translation." The author's introduction, in which he analyzes this English "translation," is said to be hardly less startling than the text of the book itself. Among other things Mr. Pritt says that, of the seven or eight hundred pages of the original, only five—not 50 or 500—appear verbatim in the present English edition of Herr Hitler's work.

The publication of "'Mein' Kampf' Examined" will thus be something far more than the publication of a book. It will be, in all the circumstances, a major political event.

Fashion decrees wider brims for male headwear. Those hats will do a March flop.

Perhaps Hitler is dead—but, as the Vancouver Sun suggests, the trouble comes when you try to make him lie down.

Now that the trial of Hines, the Tammany boss in New York, is over, United States politicians want to know where Dewey go from here.

ROYAL VISIT 'RACKETS'

From Vancouver Sun

The original—and reportedly fixed—program for the Royal tour did not include the city of Windsor, Ontario.

The Mayor of Windsor tore his hair and cried to high heaven. Their Majesties must visit Windsor — or Confederation would crumble! The millions of Windsor—and its transpontine suburb, Detroit, could not be flouted. The fixed program must be unfixed.

There were other cities in the Dominion just as disappointed as Windsor. They protested, but agreed Their Majesties could not visit every city. So these cities were content, and arranged excursions to the nearest spot of the Royal progress.

Not so Windsor. Royal Windsor must be graced by the Royal pair. Otherwise her merchants would lose thousands of dollars in the sale of souvenirs.

The Prime Minister gave Windsor a cabinet minister to pacify her. Surely Windsor would shut up. A nice new cabinet minister! Come, come!

But still Windsor howled. They'd had cabinet ministers before. Why their mayor had been a cabinet minister. Pooh! They didn't want to look at cabinet ministers. You couldn't sell souvenirs with pictures of Hon. Norman McLarty. There's an election coming in the fall; on that occasion they'd get all the pictures of Mr. McLarty they could carry away.

So in sheer weariness the Dominion government has pacified the squalling city on the St. Clair. Their Majesties will visit Windsor.

It is now in order for Lethbridge to start a riot, Prince Rupert or Qualicum Beach.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

HOME

AFTER TWO MONTHS of snow and zero and politics in Ottawa, you get off the train in Vancouver, you stand and look at the Lions and breathe the sea air deep, and you babble foolishly to your friends about how swell it is to be home.

But you never really tell them what you mean. Coming back to this coast, to the mountains and the sea and the spring flowers, is one of those things not to be put into words, must be disguised by boisterous talk lest you break down and begin to cry.

It is not just the scenery, and the smell of the sea, and the sunshine and the spring growth, after the deadening winter of the east. It is not just the physical climate here. It is the mental climate that makes you feel young again.

You must make the transition from the mental climate of the east to our mental climate here, make it frequently, to realize the difference. After a few weeks at home I always forget what it is like in the east. I can never quite feel it. But for a few days after coming home the contrast between this life and the other is vivid, overwhelming. It is almost as if you had died and risen up again.

I suppose coming home has this effect on anyone, wherever his home is. It is a solemn thought that men coming home to Ottawa or Winnipeg or New York feel a certain animal satisfaction—I suppose they do. The human animal has a strange homing instinct, just as rabbits like to crawl back into their own burrows and birds are happy in trees and the frogs are croaking outside my window, blissful in my slimy little pond, as I write this.

PIONEER LAND

YET I CONTEND that there is something more to a homecoming when you come from a large eastern city to this coast. The mental climate is as different as the physical climate. Your body feels the change in temperature. Your mind feels a sudden lift and gladness.

I have tried to puzzle out these odd scientific facts and I think the answer is to be found in this: that here we are still close to real, solid, material, basic things. We can see the mountains, smell the sea, watch the ships go by, and the little fishing boats and the log booms, and the working men, the loggers, miners, fishermen, farmers.

Whereas in the eastern cities they seldom see reality. Or if they see it in the form of snow and changing seasons, they don't feel it, close up, as we do. They are dealing constantly with ideas, with abstract problems arising out of the real things. The whole life of politicians in Ottawa is spent with abstractions, with human nature denatured into legislation, with human beings squeezed out, dry, into figures and statutes. The whole life of business men in Toronto is spent with shadows, with money, sales, contracts, covering the labors and the lives of human beings, but entirely removed from the touch of them.

That is why we are definitely happier here. You feel it as soon as you get off the train. In British Columbia men are still building on the frontier. Even in a modern city like Vancouver you can see the smoke of clearing fires on the North Shore, see new houses going up on the mountainside. You have the feeling of movement, of progress. You still have some of the satisfaction of the pioneer, building his log cabin and clearing his little patch of land.

ECHOES ONLY

OF COURSE, IT IS TRUE that we out here are caught up in the worldwide revolution of these times, and cannot escape it. But we don't feel it as they do in the great cities of the east. Perhaps we are ignorant and a little smug. It is certainly true, anyway, that once you have crossed the Rockies the tensions and stresses begin to ease. When you reach Vancouver you breathe easier, as if a weight had been taken off your chest, as if you had come out of a fever.

Men were made by nature with organs, muscles and hands to grapple with solid, real things, with saws and picks and fishing lines. In such places as Ottawa they are grappling only with ideas. Against this unnatural struggle nature rebels after a while and men rush home; or nature surrenders, adapts itself to a new form of life, and a man becomes a statesman. It is grim to think about.

Here we are living more nearly as nature intended, and as our present state of evolution demands. The economic problems of these times, the fever of ideas, the intellectual conflicts of the eastern mental climate are not the kind of thing men were made for. Men were made for sunshine and rain and the smell of spring.

Men are living creatures, not problems in economics. They were made to listen to the song of the frogs outside my window and the chirp of mating birds, not for speeches in the stone prison of Parliament Hill.

That, in a general way, is why I am glad to be home. But in a deeper sense, no man can hope to tell how good it feels.

BEAVERBROOK'S JEWELRY

From Time

In Cannes, France, as the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and other international socialites sat chatting with Lord Beaverbrook, the talk turned to cuff links. The Duke displayed a fancy pair, given him by the jewel-loving Duchess. Others showed theirs. Lord Beaverbrook stealthily pulled down his coat sleeves. When the Duchess demanded that he show his links, he sheepishly revealed a pair of safety pins.

27,000 Enrolled In B.C. Free Youth Recreation Centres

By IAN EISENHARDT

WITH unemployment rampant among our young people in 1934, with health and morale deteriorating through a superabundance of enforced leisure and the lack of publicly-organized leisure time activities, the Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education and Provincial Secretary, that year announced the inauguration of a government-conducted plan of free youth Recreation Centres for British Columbia in an experimental effort to counteract—partly, if not wholly—this degenerating situation.

Utilizing school auditoriums and gymnasiums, church and community halls, some 19 "Provincial Recreation Centres" were opened in British Columbia during the initial winter season of 1934-35, reaching 2,768 enrolees of both sexes over the age of 16 years (i.e. "out of school" age). The popularity of the Centres' activities has been attested every year since by a steadily mounting membership which passed the 20,000 total last year (1937-38), and is over the 27,000 mark at this time.

ACTIVITIES

To succeed, a public program of any kind must (a) appeal to a great variety of people; (b) show tangible resultant benefits. The Centres base their regular winter program upon this premise, choosing activities which require the minimum in accommodation and equipment, yet which best "suit everyone", irrespective of age, sex, stature, or physical development—activities, in short, which assure active participation as against passive spectatorship so common in the "athletic world" of today. Thus highly competitive sports and formalized "physical jerks" are discarded in favor of enjoyable rhythmic gymnastics, group games, folk and social dances, elementary tumbling, box vaulting, and other apparatus activities designed to develop strength, flexibility, and muscular co-ordination for the average young adult. During the summer months outdoor sports predominate on the Centres' schedule which then comprises instruction in swimming and life-saving, tennis, cricket, track and field events. Concurrently the "Pro-Rec" gymnastic leaders are expected to attend the annual leaders' course in Vancouver, whence have sprung some of the province's best physical recreation instructors who have been mainly responsible for the success of the Centres' unique activity program.

Associated activities include formation of (a) public dramatic and orchestral groups; (b) B.C. Branch of the Canadian Physical Education Association; hiking clubs and first B.C. Youth Hostel; (c) gymnastic demonstrations and competitions (d) Centre concerts, social "mixers", movies, amateur hours, public dances, etc., (e) radio broadcasts on sport and physical recreation; (f) Centres' magazine and periodical bulletins; (g) recreational survey of rural B.C.

RESULTS

Significant aspects of the centres' program may be listed as;

1. Growing realization on the part of the people that (a) physical education does not stop upon graduation from school, no more than does education of the mind and soul; (b) physical fitness is as important for work as it is for play.

2. Variety of activities insures wide appeal and encourages active participation by every member, irrespective of age or sex.

3. All-roundness, rather than specialization, helps to attain the same end, the "star athlete" idea being superseded by the "everyone an athlete" ideal.

4. Free public nature of classes brings together persons who might never meet otherwise, for all racial, social, political and religious differences are forgotten on the gym floor and the athletic field.

5. Chiefly through the Centres' efforts British Columbia will this year holds its first National Gymnastic Championships and its first National Convention of the Canadian Physical Education Association.

6. Original nature of the program demands specially trained leaders, thus opening a new field for physically-minded young men and women.

7. The Centres have given an unprecedented stimulus to the following industries; the building of community halls and gym-gymnastic equipment and gymnastic appeal.

8. Dominion-wide publicity has resulted in the Federal government's appropriation of funds for similar projects in the other provinces. Alberta inaugurated its Community Health Centres last fall, basing its program entirely upon the B.C. "pattern", while educators in the east also seem particularly anxious to start along similar lines.

DOUBLE DECAPITATION IN SAANICH

To the Editor:—In answer to many requests, and to correct an erroneous impression, the story of what happened in the Saanich Health Department is this:

On the morning of February 28, I was handed a sealed letter by the Reeve with the comment that this letter was the result of the recent reorganization of the Health Department conducted by the Municipal Council. The letter contained two brief paragraphs to the effect that the council had decided to dispense with the services of the Medical Health Officer and the supervising nurse . . . no reason given . . . and that this letter was official notification that the services of said officials would not be needed after March 31.

Later in the day, I was requested, and urgently advised by the Reeve, to return his official document and to send in my resignation—voluntarily—for my own good, and to make it easier for me in the long run . . . which, against my better judgment, I did. Before official acceptance of my resignation was received by me I withdrew it.

BERTHA JENKINS.
Supervisor, Health Department.

CALL FOR ANGUS SCOTS

To the Editor:—It has occurred to me that it would be appropriate and a pleasing mark of respect to Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth if a Guard of Honor were to be formed composed of men who were born and have lived in her own County of Angus, Scotland, if there are sufficient numbers here. I believe permission would be forthcoming from the authorities for the Guard to act at some function.

It is clearly understood that this Guard will not be a military guard, but a guard of civilians in mufti.

As a preliminary step and to ascertain the number available, would those with the above qualifications kindly notify Mr. G. H. Gardiner, Postmaster, at the Post Office, Victoria, B.C., or the undersigned as soon as possible.

R. V. D. GUTHRIE
1121 Government Street

LAGGING

To the Editor:—Victoria is lagging in the world-wide march to improved civic street transportation. "Newsweek" says "50 more American cities have decided to switch from trolly cars to bus transit," which means that "street cars will be used exclusively in only 93 of 982 cities of 10,000 of more population."

Perhaps some day the era of clanging wheels and shrieking brakes will terminate in beautiful Victoria.

WM. GEORGE.

CATHEDRAL GROVE

From West Coast Advocate

It is good to note that the Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, is again moving to preserve Cathedral Grove as a natural park and tourist attraction for all time.

We have not at any time entertained a single doubt that the big timbers would be cut; public opinion would not allow it.

But it is best that the matter be arranged amicably and through official channels, without the fanfare and ructions which attended the recent move to save timber at Stamp Falls.

CUT RATE FOR BALD HEADS

"Bald Head" in Toronto Star

I notice a lot of discussion regarding barbers' charges, and that one barber was fined $5 for a hair cut at 25c when he was supposed to charge 40c. For years barbers have been overcharging for bald heads and getting away with it. Why should we bald heads pay the same price as a man with a full head of hair? There should be a sliding scale. A top charge of 50c, bald heads 25c, side issues 10c. We bald heads should not have to pay the top-notch price.

OUT OF THE PAST

From New Yorker

Up at Columbia, several weeks ago, a stern young poet gave a reading to an audience which included two very old gentlemen. They were talking about it on their way out. "Pretty grim," one of them said. "These young people seem to think they're living in a different world." "It is a different world," the other old man said. "And I'm glad I don't live in it."

DESERTED HOUSE

Sydney King Russell in the New York Sun

This solitary house of wood and stone
Must still remember brighter days than these
That pass the portal where it sits alone
Oblivious of all but memories.

A house can live with loneliness too long
While stubborn silence clings to roof and rafter—
Come swiftly, morning, with the voice of song
And bid its halls resound with joyous laughter!

Anglican Women Open Annual Sessions

Thank-offering Is Presented at Cathedral Service

Delegates from Anglican parishes in all parts of Vancouver Island gathered in the Memorial Hall of Christ Church Cathedral this morning for the opening session of the 35th annual meeting of the Columbia Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary. Mrs. D. M. Duncan, the president, was in the chair.

Mrs. Spencer Elliott, wife of the Dean of Columbia, in a graceful address, welcomed the delegates and touched briefly upon the value of such gatherings for the exchanging of views, the pooling of ideas and the general deepening of spiritual experience, and wished the members every success in their deliberations. Mrs. Moilliet of Parksville replied on behalf of the out-of-town delegates.

The nominations committee presented its report. Encouraging reports were also presented by several diocesan officers, including Mrs. O. Prentice, recording secretary; Mrs. L. C. Lytton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. E. L. Philp, for Columbia Coast Magazine; Mrs. A. Maunsell, prayer-partner secretary, and Miss D. Mott, Dorcas secretary.

THANKOFFERING SERVICE

The business session was preceded by celebration of Holy Communion and a thankoffering service in the Cathedral at 9.30, Bishop Sexton being the celebrant. The thankoffering, which amounted to approximately $600, was formally presented and dedicated at this service.

Last evening a preparatory service for members and delegates of the Columbia W.A. was conducted in the Cathedral, Canon F. E. Pierce of South Saanich conducting the impressive service.

After tomorrow's business sessions; the delegates and members will be guests of the Bishop and Mrs. H. E. Sexton at tea at Bishop's Close at 4 o'clock. In the evening a public missionary meeting will be held in the Memorial Hall, when Bishop Sexton will preside. Miss Mary Foerstal, missionary to mid-Japan, will be speaker, and music will be rendered by the Bishop's choir.

Elgar Music Theme Of Lecture-recital

Musical Arts to Hear Artists From Vancouver

Next Wednesday evening, at the Empress Hotel, the Victoria Musical Art Society will present Miss May E. James of Vancouver in a lecture-recital on Elgar music. Other artists coming from the mainland to assist with the program will be Carrie Mahalek, well-known Winnipeg vocalist; Miss Phyllis Ward, pianist, who is the accompanist of the Bach Choir in Vancouver; Smyth Humphreys and Leonora Zscheidrich, violinists, and Pearl Hogue, 'cellist, all members of the Vancouver symphony orchestra; also Harry Gomez, viola player.

Mr. Gomez, who came from Regina recently, is quickly establishing himself amongst players of chamber music in Vancouver and is already accepted as a welcome addition to professional ranks there.

Mr. Bligh, who is coming over to conduct the choral ensemble, has sung many times under Elgar's baton and is, therefore, versed in the Elgarian tradition. Mr. Humphreys also has had the honor of playing under Mr. Elgar's direction.

Mme. Eva Baird is lending valued support by preparing a number of her pupils for the choral ensemble.

C.G.I.T. Missionary Rally Well Attended

An enthusiastic group of Canadian Girls in Training belonging to United Church groups enjoyed a missionary rally on Friday, when 250 of them with their leaders packed the school auditorium of Metropolitan United Church.

The service opened with a sing-song led by Miss Charlotte Crawford and accompanied at the piano by Miss Lauretta McCall. The girls were welcomed by their presbyterial secretary, Mrs. R. Harris, and a short devotional conducted. Miss Francis Wallace, president of the Girls' Council, announced the girls' conference to be held March 11 and 12. The silver cup won by the girls of the Chinese group for their temperance work was displayed and all groups invited to take part in the competition this year. A group of Metropolitan girls under the direction of Mrs. R. Bewell broadcast from station CGIT a short program of news of mission stations and music.

Following this, Miss Mildred Mossop of the Oriental Home staff gave an illustrated lecture, using as a basis the study book of the year, "Calling All Canada." The beautiful colored slides portrayed the work of the Woman's Missionary Society in Canada, showing hospitals, mission boats and homes for girls as well as some of the missionaries engaged in the work.

After thanking Miss M. Mossop and Mr. George Davis, who operated the lantern, the meeting closed with the singing of taps.

ST. ALBAN'S A.Y.P.A.

Mr. C. H. French will address the members of St. Alban's A.Y.P.A. on Friday evening at 8.30 in the Church Hall. Members of the congregation are also cordially invited to attend.

"Can you make a shiny skin matt, Jane Seymour?"

"THIS greasy skin of mine is giving me an inferiority complex," said a girl who came to my Salon. "I plaster on powder an inch thick, but the shine always 'comes through.'"

"My dear girl," I said, "it's useless trying to cover up grease. What you've got to do is to face the fact that your skin is in bad condition—and get it right."

"Yes," she said, "but how?"

"First—shun all greasy creams. Always use my Cleansing Milk for cleaning off make-up. It tones and bleaches as well as cleanses. Then you need Pore Cream to fine down those pores, and afterwards a course of Greaskin Cream to feed the tissues and get them healthier. It's a wonderful cream, that—not greasy, yet full of nourishing properties. Wash in the mornings with tepid water and pat in Astringent Lotion, to close those pores. For your foundation, use Petal Lotion, with Greaskin Powder. You'll find the two together keep you matt all day."

This morning I have a most grateful letter from her in my mail, saying: "I can't thank you enough. That treatment has made my shiny skin so matt!"

You can get my preparations from any of my agents, and do ask for my book "Speaking Frankly"—or write to me for it: Jane Seymour, 251 Spadina Ave., Toronto. My Bond Street Salon is at 21-22 Grosvenor Street, London, England.

Individuality New Style Opening's Keynote

Exquisite Gowns At Spencer's French Room Opening

With Easter just around the corner and the spring sun mercilessly revealing that winter clothes have lost their pristine freshness, the eternal feminine instinctively turns to the thought of clothes. And of clothes with color and jauntiness and chic, whose wearing contributes to the general feeling of "Oh, how good it is to be alive" that only spring engenders.

EXPRESS INDIVIDUALITY

Feminism, romanticism — or any other 'ism which the wearer wants to pursue—is to be found in the galaxy of gowns which the French Room at David Spencer's has garnered from the eastern fashion centres for its spring opening tomorrow.

For there never has been a time when such individuality has been offered to women as is available in this season's styles. Every woman can wear the thing most becoming to her, can cater to her own type, and still be smart and soignee.

Colors are wonderful in the new prints of chiffon or crepe which seem to be to the fore-front for afternoon wear. Skirts are short and full, but many inches are stolen from the hips by the subtle use of fine pleats stitched at the hipline and then allowed to swing. The new peg-top effect in skirts, achieved by intriguing cartridge pleatings, strikes another new note.

FOR EVENING WEAR

But the greatest scope for individuality is to be found in the evening and dinner gowns for formal and informal wear, shown in the French Room. One can choose bustles, or go girlish in bouffant frothiness, or hark back to the Directoire period—and still be in the forefront of fashion. For all of these trends have been cleverly developed in beautiful fabrics. Bouffant effects are achieved in all-silk organdies of adorable crispness, or in more sophisticated net stiffened with mohair at the hem, while "slinky" lines are expressed in gorgeous lames and prints, and in beaded chiffons with diaphanous evening wraps of chiffon to match.

Lace, too, is to be as popular as ever, and in this material some of the floor-length gowns of exquisite line and color have the added advantage of serving a double-duty purpose, being suitable for formal afternoon or garden party wear and as such would admirably meet the needs of the well-dressed woman during the Royal visit here.

Street wear has also taken on a new spring jauntiness, coats and suits—without which no Victoria woman's wardrobe is complete—reflecting the brief skirt length and other 1939 features in the smartest materials and well-cut lines.

Students Weary of Social Dating

BOSTON (CP) — Aspiring debs and their doting mammas confront the college male with a "serious problem," a Harvard dean reported in the Alumni Bulletin.

F. Francis Bowditch, assistant dean of freshmen, sets forth in an article about problems of undergraduate life that the female social activities about a college are a "detriment" in the students' use of leisure time. They cut particularly into the contacts between students, which college officials now regard as of "great educational value," he said.

"A detriment to this very valuable use of leisure, and a serious problem to the undergraduate, particularly when a college is located in or near large metropolitan areas," he said, "is the social demands of the young ladies and their fond parents, who are all vying to entertain the eligible young men of the colleges.

"I have no solution to offer for this situation but much can be done by parents and others through influencing their children to gain a certain amount of common sense and a sense of proportion. A successful college student must be self-reliant and have a capacity for self direction."

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders.

You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

Mrs. R. R. Brough, of Victoria, who took the medal honors in the Empress Winter golf tournament on Monday, caught in a candid camera study by The Times photographer at the Oak Bay course yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Brough went down to defeat in her match to Mrs. J. Harold Wilson yesterday, after a keenly fought battle, and is now in the first flight.

Miss Helen Nichol Died Yesterday

Sister of Former Lieut.-Governor Is Dead in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Funeral services will be held Thursday for Miss Helen Ward Nichol, pioneer Vancouver resident and sister of the late Walter C. Nichol, former Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia. She died at a private nursing home here yesterday following several months illness.

Miss Nichol was born in Vienna, Ont., and was private secretary to O. B. Osler, Toronto lawyer, for 20 years before coming to Vancouver in 1901.

She was a director of the Vancouver Daily Province when Mr. Nichol published that paper. She was a frequent visitor to Victoria.

Survivors include a sister-in-law, Mrs. Walter C. Nichol of Victoria, a nephew, John, and a niece, Mrs. Rollo Mainguy, wife of Commander Mainguy of the Royal Canadian Navy.

In ancient times petroleum was used in embalming the dead.

Air Stewardesses On Trial Flight

WINNIPEG — Trans-Canada Airlines eastbound super Electra winged a comely cargo toward Toronto this morning. Eight student stewardesses, with Chief Stewardess Lucile Garner, were aboard flying the air route in the first of a series of familiarization flights over eastern and western Canada.

For several of the young women, chosen from the ranks of Canadian nurses, the flight marked the first time in the air. They will return to Winnipeg Thursday and on Friday a second contingent is scheduled to fly eastward in charge of Miss Pat Eccleston, who came from Vancouver Tuesday to assist at the training school. Next week's "school in the air" will carry the 15 students over the west to Vancouver. On March 17 they will receive definite appointments to airline cities across the Dominion.

Captain W. A. Coulson and First Officer Jack Lewis were at the controls of the transport craft this morning. Their passengers included Marcelle Levac and Giralde Brunelle of Montreal, Dorothy Price and Pat McNamara of Toronto, Constance Halbeck of Lethbridge, Margaret Beeber of Wayne, Alberta, and Florence Shanahan and Sheila Neil of Winnipeg.

Some butterflies give off scents distasteful to birds—their chief enemies.

The Local Council of Women will not meet this month owing to the annual meeting having been held so recently. The next meeting will be on Monday, April 3, the date having been changed in order not to conflict with Easter Monday.

CREDIT is the foundation of all commerce, between nations as well as individuals.

"The producers of raw material sell it to the manufacturers who turn it into articles of use and service which are sold to the merchants who in turn sell them to the consumers. At every stage of the process credit intervenes."

Credit is a privilege—a sacred trust. Merchants gladly extend this privilege to those who prove themselves worthy of it—who meet their obligations promptly. Those who abuse that privilege hamper the merchant, the manufacturer and the producer in turn by withholding funds rightfully theirs and necessary to the continuance of their businesses.

And they destroy their own credit. For their paying records at the credit bureau, the guardian of credit, are open to the scrutiny of each member!

Two Medalists Are Defeated

Ernie Brachat and Mrs. R. R. Brough Beaten in Empress Winter Golf

Defeat of both the men's and women's medalists featured the opening round of match play in the handicap championships of the 11th annual Empress winter golf tournament at the Oak Bay links of the Victoria Club yesterday. Ernie Brachat, Gorge Vale, who led the men's qualifying round on Monday, put up a grand fight before going down to defeat at the hands of Bob Randall at the 19th. Mrs. R. R. Brough, Oak Bay, who topped the women's qualifier, was put out by her clubmate, Mrs. H. R. Wilson, 2 and 1.

Although bright sunshine flooded the course all day, the players were troubled by a strong wind that swept in from the sea.

At the conclusion of the first round of the men's, Victoria and out-of-town players shared the 16 positions. Visitors still in the running for the title were G. S. Ripley, Lee Steil, G. H. Parsons and Ernie Ketcham, all of Seattle; C. W. Nichol, Pentieton; Matt Mather, Castor, Alberta; R. McEwan, Vancouver, and L. A. Lewis, New Westminster.

A. E. Irish, runner-up for medalist honors, advanced safely through the first round, defeating G. W. Thrift, Vancouver, 3 and 1. In one of the closest matches of the round Ketcham defeated Paul Glaser 1 up in an all-Seattle affair.

WOMEN'S PLAY

First round of the women's championship also saw the defeat of Mrs. E. E. Jackson, low-handicapper from the Uplands, by Miss E. Benson 1 up. Mrs. Jackson shared lov gross honors the opening day with Mrs. J. McIlraith, who andvanced yesterday by a 5-and-4 victory over Mrs. J. C. Baldwin, Seattle. Miss Mary Mackenzie-Grieve, Uplands, another low-handicapper, went into the second round as a result of her 2-up victory over Miss Norah Wilson.

AS A FOLLOW-UP on the selections of the British Columbia rugby team to visit the Golden Gate Exposition at San Francisco next month for a series of four matches, John Rowland, chairman of the Victoria selection committee for the rep team and a member of the committee of eight which selected the touring squad, handed us some interesting figures on the points scored by the Victoria rep team and the players who obtained them.

The Victoria McKechnie Cup team scored a total of 63 points in its four matches against Vancouver reps and Varsity. Of that number players from the Oak Bay Wanderers contributed 54 and those from the J.B.A.A. nine. The points were credited to the Wanderers as follows: Grogan 31; Barber 11; Carney 3; Forbes 3; Murdoch 3 and Gornall 3. Bray of the Bays was responsible for the other nine points. And as Rowland points out, every one of those players is included on the California team. In speaking about the failure of the committee to select Jack Ferguson for the team Rowland pointed out that he had not scored a point during the rep series.

In commenting on the Victoria players selected for the trip south Rowland said that every man chosen was a potential scorer. "There is not a Victoria player on that team who is not dangerous and capable of going over or kicking for points," Rowland said. "To those who would criticize the team selected from a Victoria standpoint it must not be forgotten that there were only three Victoria men on the committee as compared to five from Vancouver."

Although nothing has been announced we understand the British Columbia Basketball Association is undergoing its yearly headache over appointing the referees for the provincial senior men's final between the Victoria and Vancouver champions. On the mainland it will be either Tookes or Westerns with the Dominoes practically a cinch to again represent this city. Last year the series between the Dominoes and Westerns was handled by referees from the United States. According to reports the B.C. officials are not anxious to again import men for the playoff, favoring our own referees from Victoria and Vancouver.

If they go through with their decision to appoint B.C. refs it will be interesting to see who gets the call. In the senior playoff in Vancouver officials by the names of Young, McMillan and McIntyre have been used. In the game Saturday McMillan and McIntyre worked and here is what Bill Forst had to say about the refereeing in the Vancouver Province:

"The refereeing wasn't first class, but it wasn't bad. The officials could have saved themselves a lot of trouble by penalizing some of the over-enthusiastic checking at the start. From just plain hacking, on the borderline of fouling, the boys were cutting one another down, lacrosse fashion, by the time the last quarter arrived."

We admit the Tookes-Westerns series a tough one for the referees to handle but it is a pink tea party compared to the B.C. series. The provincial playoff games are just about as tough to handle as one would want to find. The tension is at breaking-point all the time and the referees have to know what its all about. That's why outside men have proven more successful. It doesn't mean a thing to them who wins and one player is just the same as another.

GROUP OF COLWOOD GOLFERS—Snapped on the veranda of the Royal Colwood Golf Club's palatial clubhouse the large collection of men members had just finished playing in the annual president vs. captain team match last Sunday. Following the encounter, 82 men sat down to a banquet, and afterward heard all about the club's "New deal," an arrangement which is expected to result in the early acquisition of many new members.

Victoria High Girls Champs

Defeat Oak Bay High Grass Hockey Team in May Tulley Shield Series

For the first time in six years Victoria High School succeeded in winning the May Tulley Shield, emblematic of girls' grass-hockey supremacy between Victoria and Oak Bay High Schools.

The third and final game, played yesterday afternoon on the Victoria High grounds, ended in a 2 to 2 tie. All the goals were scored in the first half, Victoria High having to fight uphill. Oak Bay made it 2 to 0 early on scores by Molly McCallum and Lorraine Carruthers, before Margaret Sedgely scored from a scramble in front of the Oak Bay goal. Late in the half Peggy Laughlin scored the equalizer for Victoria High to tie the count.

The second period opened with both teams on the offensive and continued throughout with long end to end rushes.

The series was decided on a total-point basis as the final game ended in a draw. Victoria High won the first game 3 to 1. The second game ended in a 2 to 2 tie and the deadlock yesterday gave Victoria a 7 to 5 total-point victory over Oak Bay.

Newark, N.J.—Rudy Dusek, 218, Omaha, Neb., defeated Vice Christy, 223, California, two out of three falls.

Kenneth Farnes and Wright advanced the total to 305 when the latter was dismissed for 26. The innings closed when Farnes was bowled by Newson for 20.

Bruce Mitchell and Pieter Van der Byl opened the Springboks second innings. At the adjournment Mitchell had made 15 runs and his partner 14.

Duval decisioned Chuck MacDonald and McLeod out pointed Bud Jager. Victoria's Ted Grey lost a close decision to Norman Sevilla. These two met here last week, Sevilla winning a decision.

Carman won the two-game round 10 to 8.

Reg Corfield Is Again President

Re-elected Head of Victoria Lawn Tennis Club; Successful Year

W. E. "Reg" Corfield was re-elected president of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club last night at the annual meeting held in the Belmont Building, which brought to a close one of the most successful years in the club's history.

Dr. E. W. Boak was named vice-president. Miss I. M. Jackson, A. C. Brand, J. D. D. Campbell, E. Cox, J. Fraser, R. V. Hocking and E. W. Pangman will comprise the committee. Judge P. S. Lampman was elected honorary president and Mrs. A. E. Hodgins, Mrs. J. D. Gordon, Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., B. P. Schwengers and J. Parmley Paret, honorary vice-presidents.

Reports submitted by retiring officers showed that the club enjoyed a 100 per cent increase in membership in its 52nd year. The comfort of the club quarters was improved considerably through a number of alterations in 1938. It was also announced that all the hard courts had been resurfaced and should be equal to the best available.

The introduction last season of a policy of giving special attention to all new members and arranging games for them proved popular. This, coupled with a number of friendly matches, American and handicap tournaments, went a long way toward increasing the membership.

IMPORTANT EVENTS

During 1938 many important events were held by the club, the most outstanding being the Perry-Vines exhibition at the Armories. This attraction enjoyed one of the largest galleries in local tennis history. In August the B.C. championships and Pacific Northwest sectional championships were successfully staged on the club courts. The Victoria and District championships event retained its popularity, the entry being substantially larger, especially from other clubs.

In junior tennis a new policy was introduced. A professional coach was provided to encourage and assist young players. In addition the club co-operated with the V. I. Tennis League in its junior coaching plan and all classes were held on its courts.

Many tournament successes were registered by club members, with the juniors being outstanding. The club was well represented on the Canadian, British Columbia and Pacific Northwest ranking lists.

Added improvements are being planned for the club this year, it was reported.

J. D. Nicholson, president of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association for many years, was welcomed at the meeting.

New York—Tony Canzoneri, 140½, New York, former lightweight champion, outpointed Eddie Brink, 139½, Scranton, Pa., eight.

Mount Vernon Coming

Victoria Dominoes will engage in their final game before entering the British Columbia basketball playoffs on Saturday night at the High School gym when they tackle Mount Vernon. The visitors were runners-up to Alpine Dairy in the recent northwest tournament at Seattle and should provide the local stars with loads of competition.

Members of the Mount Vernon club are: Jack Meurer, Joe Murray, Huntley Gordon, John Dixon, Emil Knutson, Stan Bates, Blackie Clay, Bob Nelson, Lloyd Lavas and Fred Chatterton.

As supporting games two coast B.C. playoff finals will be offered. At 7 the Cardinals will meet Vancouver Westerns for the senior B women's crown, to be folowed by an engagement between Tull's Unitys and Vancouver I.X.L. for the coast intermediate A title. Both are sudden-death battles.

Tonight at the High School gym three island playoff games will be staged, starting at 7.

Earl Pollock of the Pioneer Fruit and Vegetable Company stated today he had presented a new basketball for the series between Chinese Students and Port Alberni with the winning team to take possession of the ball.

Blank Wings As Rangers Held to Tie

Score 3 to 0 Victory to Cinch First Place in Major Hockey Campaign

Even Detroit Red Wings, who are among the hottest of the late season bidders, couldn't put a temporary halt to Boston Bruins' dash toward the National Hockey League championship when the Bears smelled the melon.

The Bruins trod to the title last night with a 3 to 0 victory over the Red Wings, who had won their last three starts. The result removed any mathematical chance Boston would miss the Prince of Wales Cup, which most people conceded to them long ago.

Bill (Flash) Hollett, not one of the club's more prolific scorers, led the way to the clinching victory with two goals.

Hollett scored in the second period and added another goal in the third, after Porky Dumart had made the score 2 to 0. In Boston's nets, Frankie Brimsek recorded his 10th sutout of the season.

New York Rangers are the only other team to have made sure of a place in the Stanley Cup series.

The Rangers were held to a 2 to 2 tie at New York last night by the driving Montreal Canadiens, who came from behind twice to force the game into overtime. The Habitants, clinging to the sixth and last playoff spot, made their margin over the last-place Chicago Black Hawks three points.

The league's leading point-maker, Toe Blake of the Canadiens, added to his total by puching a third-period goal that matched Lynn Patrick's score in the first. Dutch Hiller gave the Rangers a 2 to 1 lead midway through the third, but three minutes later Desse Smith tied it up again with the aid of Armand Mondou.

Garden Advice Is Appreciated

Horticultural Society Members Hear Tips From Well-known Gardeners

A large meeting of the Victoria Horticultural Society in the Council Chamber at the City Hall last night heard garden tips given by three competent fellow members, W. G. Darling, head gardener at Government House; George Attwood, one of the horticultural experts at Beacon Hill Park, and E. M. Whyte, an amateur grower who has made a study of horticulture in all its branches.

Mr. Attwood advised against too early planting of vegetable seeds. He said the ground should be allowed to dry out. Plants could be started in flats, he said, and then transferred. Carrots could be planted in the autumn, he said; celery should be sowed towards the end of March. Leeks should not be planted too early.

A mixture of sand and coal oil, he said, would prevent flies from laying their eggs on onions. Soot and lime would keep rust from parsnips. Peas would do best in well-manured soil and should be planted about three inches, if the soil was heavy. Tomato plants should not be put in before the first week of June, he advised.

Mr. Whyte said the ideal dahlia soil was well-drained, medium or light sandy loam, especially well supplied with humus or decayed vegetable matter. This type of soil was warm and loose and did not bake hard. Good dahlia fertilizers were nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, he said. At least eight inches should be dug for dahlia bulbs; even 12 to 15 inches would be better. An abundance of soil mosture was necessary for dahlias, he said.

Mr. Darling spoke on ferns and potted plants, gave tips on growing them outdoors and in the house. Most of them could be grown, he said, by cutting a leaf and planting it in sand.

The parsnip competition was won by A. E. Powell, with Mrs. E. Michell second.

George Little spoke briefly on the raising of leeks.

Not all salmon spend their lives alternately in fresh and salt water. In the state of Maine, in Canada and in Norway, there are land-locked salmon that spend their entire lives in fresh water.

Trade Treaty Adjustments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Discussions with Canada have begun in an effort to iron out a number of difficulties that arose after the new trade agreement with the Dominion went into effect on January 1.

The difficulties revolve around Canadian methods of fixing valuation of United States products for the purpose of applying duty, it was disclosed yesterday. American officials stated they were not always satisfied with the valuations arrived at.

Little Progress On School Budget

Reduction of Only $800 Made at Meeting Yesterday

City Council representatives and city school board delegates were just $800 closer to accord today, following a one and one-half hour meeting on school estimates yesterday afternoon.

A report on the meeting will be presented to the council at its next session by Alderman W. L. Morgan, who, with Aldermen Ed. Williams and B. J. Gadsden, as well as the city comptroller and city solicitor, represented the city. Today he stated no recommendation would be made until the council had received the committee's report.

Under existing regulations, the council has until March 15 in which to accept the ordinary estimates or return the budget to the school board with a demand for arbitration. Intervention of a disinterested referee is not expected.

A difference of opinion was voiced by Alderman Morgan and School Board Chairman Percy George today in their statements on the meeting. Alderman Morgan expressed the view the school budget could be cut further. Trustee George maintained it had been cut to an irreducible minimum and that the trustees were actually gambling on collections to meet their revenue.

Representing the board at the meeting in addition to the chairman, were Trustee W. P. Marchant and George H. Deane, municipal inspector.

The $800 reduction was made by deleting a vote for sidewalk replacements at the High School.

Fewer Entries For Festival

But Excellent Talent Will Be Heard in Musical Competitions Next Month

Women competitors are continuing to take more interest in the annual Musical Festival, while men are losing interest, entries for this year's festival show.

Entries closed late yesterday afternoon, with a total of 661, compared with 702 last year.

The festival this year will be held from April 18 to 22, inclusive, with the final concert at the Empire Theatre on the Saturday evening. The folk dancing competition will be held at the Victoria High School Friday and Saturday, April 28 and 29.

There are more entries this year in the operatic class for ladies, the singles being 15, compared with 12 last year. The corresponding class for men, however, has only seven entries.

More entries for the ladies' adult vocal class are also noted, there being 21 in the six divisions. Another drop is shown in a similar class for men, there being only six entrants this year compared with 21 in 1938.

TACOMA ENTRY

There are nine entries for the ladies' oratorio class and but six for the same class for men. A Tacoma woman will sing in the oratorio division.

One of the outstanding competitors will be 12-year-old Lamar Crowson of Portland, who already has made a name for himself as a brilliant and exceptionally talented pianist. He has entered the pianoforte class open to amateurs of any age.

Conservatives Plan New Association

Plans for organizing a separate Conservative association in the new provincial riding of Oak Bay were discussed at a meeting of Wards Six and Seven Conservatives last night.

After a preliminary talk, it was decided to call a meeting for St. Mary's Hall March 15 to go ahead with organization plans. A committee was struck to draft a constitution.

The new riding comes into being for the next provincial election under the redistribution bill passed at the last session of the Legislature.

The association elected 51 delegates to attend the party's federal nominating convention in Victoria riding which may be held next month. The rest of the membership not chosen will be substitutes.

J. L. Mara was appointed as a representative on the central executive, replacing H. H. Cullis, who resigned.

Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown presided.

Meetings will be held at the University of California, at Stanford University and in Pacific House in San Francisco, from July 24 until August 12.

The agenda include science problems that affect the Pacific area, ranging from new discoveries about the Pacific ocean itself and about the geology of its basin, to the nutrition and health problems of the peoples who live on its borders and its islands.

RADIO BELL WARNS OF FOREST FIRES

WASHINGTON—Forest rangers on the lookout for fires may now call each other via a new radio bell-ringing device, announced here by the U.S. Forest Service, as easily as Mrs. Jones calls Mrs. Smith on the telephone.

Developed for use with a semi-portable wave outfit, it makes it possible for a ranger to step away from the set itself to attend to other duties, and yet be within call. It can also be used to wake a ranger during the night, if trouble develops. A series of code signals are possible when several stations are included in any one forest service network.

Tax Memo Dates Conquest of Canaan

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Because there was a precise and efficient Egyptian tax collector in the Bible city of Lachish long ago, archaeologists can add a new date to the Conquest of Canaan.

Israelites led by Joshua attacked Lachish with the edge of the sword not far from the year 1230 B.C., says Prof. G. Ernest Wright, in the Biblical Archaeologist. A bowl found smashed in the ruins of Lachish, in southern Palestine, has turned out to be "a very remarkable object indeed," Prof. Wright declares. Pieced together, and studied by Egyptologists, it is revealed as a memorandum with tax collections of wheat jotted on it, each carefully dated year four of an unnamed pharaoh's reign. The pharaoh is identified almost certainly as Pharaoh Merneptah and the year four as probably 1231 B.C. The smashing of the bowl, a trifling incident in the terrific destruction and burning of the Canaanite stronghold, must have happened shortly after.

Archaeologists, who are narrowing down Bible dates to new precision, are inclined to believe that invasion of the Promised Land by the Israelites was not a single campaign. Rather, as explained by Prof. W. F. Wright of the Johns Hopkins University, some tribes left Egypt about a century before the Exodus was led by Moses, and these captured Jericho between 1360 and 1320 B.C. Joshua's campaigns against Canaanite cities date from about 1235 B.C. to around 1200.

SCOUT NEWS

Members of the First Cathedral Boy Scout Troop went on an inspection tour of the Daily Colonist last Friday night where they were shown how a daily newspaper is made. The inspection lasted about half an hour and on leaving R. Warner expressed thanks on behalf of the troop to the staffs for making it possible to see the various departments of the newspaper at work. The troop then marched back to the hall where a few games were played. There will be a meeting of parents of the troop Thursday night at 8 in the Burdett Street headquarters.

Arthritis sufferer gets relief with mustard applications

For a long period, Mrs. Chas. Blunson of 190 Brookside Avenue, Toronto, has been made an invalid by painful, crippling arthritis. To obtain relief in her terribly aching knees she has found this treatment most effective:—

She takes ½ cup of mustard and puts it in a basin of hot water. Then dips a piece of flannel in the basin, wrings it out and applies it around her knees for twenty minutes. The soothing action of the mustard soon eases the pain and gives blessed relief.

Another aid to her comfort

Mrs. Blunson is also given sponge baths of mustard and water. These also are very effective in bringing her comfort. She says "I would not feel safe without plenty of mustard in the house."

There are, unfortunately, thousands of others who are right now suffering the tortures of arthritis. To them we suggest a trial of mustard applications. Mustard has also proved its effectiveness times without number in the treatment of asthma, bronchitis, common colds, chills, sore throats, neuritis, lumbago, rheumatism, colic. You are urged, of course, to call your doctor when symptoms are serious.

To ensure sleep

For that "tired feeling" a mustard bath provides wonderful relief, and after a soothing, comforting mustard bath, quiet, restful sleep naturally follows.

But there are so many medicinal ways of using mustard that you really should have our booklet on the medicinal uses of mustard which gives complete directions. A copy will be mailed to you free if you'll write direct to Colman-Keen (Canada) Limited, Montreal.

ENGLISH MUSTARD

Tourist Efforts Are Co-ordinated

Co-operation of local organizations in the Okanagan, Kootenay and other interior points with the B.C. Travel Bureau in promoting the tourist business is assured, said Major Gordon Smith, commissioner, on his return today from a speaking tour of these towns.

Advocating a plan of co-ordination between the local points and the provincial bureau, Major Smith addressed meetings in Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, Grand Forks, Nelson, Trail, Rossland, Cranbrook, Revelstoke and Nakusp, talking to boards of trade and other organizations.

At most points, he said, special committees were appointed to consider the foundation of local bureaus, either as publicity committees or tourist promotion organizations.

"The government bureau," he said, "will co-operate with the local bureaus, as it does with those on the coast, and by the co-ordination of activities, with the provincial bureau working for the common advantage and regional bodies for their local benefit, it is hoped the plan will mean a substantial development in the tourist industry."

Major Smith outlined to the meetings the government's publicity campaign this year, which includes space in 15 national magazines, five motor magazines and 50 newspapers reaching some 95,000,000 paid subscribers. Use of billboards, the San Francisco Fair exhibit and a big advertisement in this week's Saturday Evening Post in conjunction with the northwest states are other features.

H. B. French to Retire Shortly

Deputy Registrar For 19 Years in Provincial Service

A man who, for 19 years, behind the scenes has carefully recorded the vital happenings to people in British Columbia will retire from the public service on March 31.

He is Herbert B. French, deputy registrar of births, marriages and deaths in the provincial health department since 1920 here.

Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, said his successor has not yet been chosen.

Under Mr. French's eyes have passed the official records of the weddings of thousands of couples, and the births of their babies. And for others who passed on, he has closed the book which the government keeps of its population.

Son of a Yorkshire clergyman, he came to Canada in 1910, settling first at Strathmore, Alberta. Two years later he came to British Columbia and took a post in the Department of Education.

A few months later he shifted to the Archives, and in May, 1914, joined the Board of Health as clerk. For one year, starting in 1919, he served with the civil service commission and then rejoined the health department as deputy registrar on the retirement of Munroe Miller. He, in turn, has now reached retirement age.

During his regime as second in command of this branch of the provincial service he has seen it grow from a small registry office with a staff of four to the present highly-mechanized division of vital statistics handling all records of the health department, collecting and analyzing statistics.

He pioneered a number of improvements in the various procedures that have to do with the statistical work, particularly in the classification of death causes, an essentially important phase. New indexing methods brought into force last year were largely due to him.

Mr. and Mrs. French live at 2386 Dalhouse Street.

Says Traffic Check 'Mean Thing to Do'

"I think it is an awful mean thing to do" was a woman's reaction to police practice of having plain clothes men in a prowler car check traffic violations.

She was fined $10 in the City Police Court this morning for exceeding 30 miles an hour.

The woman was paced at over 40 miles an hour along Gorge Road and failed to stop for some distance after the siren of the police car was sounded.

She said she heard the siren but looked back and saw only what she thought was a private car with a private citizen driving it. Actually it was Constable Roy Woolsey keeping an eye open for just such traffic violators as the woman.

TAX RATE UP

VANCOUVER (CP) — Comptroller Frank Jones today presented to the City Council revised estimates for Vancouver's civic budget, and suggested an increase in the mill rate from 48.635 to 50.585, reduced rebates for prompt tax payments and increased water rates as possible means of cutting down an estimated deficit of $681,083 on current account.

The estimated deficit does not include a sinking fund levy of $992,489.

The Royal Visit

City to See Crown Jewels

King and Queen Will Probably Wear Them On One of State Occasions

The historic and fabulously valuable Crown Jewels of England in the heavily-guarded Tower of London, hard by the River Thames, may be seen in Victoria, it was learned today with the announcement that King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will bring a number of their jewels with them to Canada and wear robes of state and their jewels on at least one public occasion in Victoria.

The Imperial State Crown, which the King wears, contains a pair of Queen Elizabeth's earrings and the romantic Stuart sapphire, smuggled out of the country by James II and restored to the Crown years afterwards.

The Queen's Crown has the famous Koh-i-noor diamond set in it. It is made of platinum and set entirely with diamonds. It has detachable arches so it can be worn as an open coronet. The Queen will be able to detach the Koh-i-noor from her crown and wear it on other occasions pinned to her dress.

Queen Elizabeth will bring with her to North America 50 gowns and coats and a hat for each day's ensemble. On some days she will wear three different outfits.

Further preparations for the Royal Visit were made at busy sessions of the city decorations and celebrations committees in the City Hall yesterday.

The decoration group, meeting under the chairmanship of Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins, adjourned until tomorrow, when delegates will be appointed to make a canvass of city merchants to request their co-operation in the establishment of a uniform decorative scheme for buildings in the downtown area.

At the celebrations group meeting, Mayor James Greig, Duncan, and Reeve Chapman, North Cowichan, discussed with Dr. Olga Jardine, chairman of the Local Council of Women committee and Alderman W. H. Davies, celebrations chairman, and Alderman Hawkins, arrangements for the care of children on May 30.

The committee was informed approximately 5,100 young students would be here from up-island centres, including Duncan, Shawnigan Lake, Chemainus, Parksville, Courtenay, Metchosin, Prince Rupert, Port Alberni, Happy Valley, Gulf Islands, North Saanich, Nanaimo, Hornby Island, Bowser School at Parksville, Langford and Ladysmith.

When the definite numbers have been secured, plans will be made for the seating of the young visitors in Macdonald Park and for preparation of a midday meal for them.

Publication of a souvenir program commemorating the visit of the King and Queen to Victoria was endorsed by the Saanich Council this week.

The council received a letter from Esquimalt Council suggesting the program be published jointly by the city and three municipalities, with the co-operation of the provincial government.

In connection with other details of the Royal Visit, Reeve A. G. Lambrick and Councillors G. A. Austin and J. R. Scoby were named a committee to make recommendations to the council as to the form decorations in Saanich should take and the amount to be spent on them.

TORONTO — Provincial Secretary Harry Nixon, chairman of the Ontario government committee arranging plans for the Royal Visit here May 22, has announced the King will not be able to prorogue the Ontario Legislature session. Federal officials rejected the suggestion, he said.

OTTAWA — Four convertible seven-passenger motor cars for the use of the King and Queen are being supplied by three Canadian companies, General Motors, which will build two, and one each by Ford and Chrysler.

The cars are convertible, so that wherever weather permits Their Majesties may ride in an open car and be seen more easily by the public. They will be painted deep red, as are all Royal motor cars in the United Kingdom. Transportation arrangements are being made so there will always be two available at each place where a Royal procession will take place. The cars will be moved in advance to these cities, probably on railway flat cars.

TORONTO—Hon. H. C. Nixon, provincial secretary of Ontario, said today it is up to Olivia Dionne to decide whether his five famous daughters will come to Toronto to meet the King and Queen, May 22, but he added he was willing "to bet my hat" they will be here. An invitation to provide a special train for the quintuplets to travel to Toronto to be presented to Their Majesties during their eight and a half hour stay here was forwarded to Mr. Dionne by the Ontario government. The father is considering the invitation, but said in Callander yesterday he is not in favor of the proposal, but would not decide until he had consulted his wife.

"We would all prefer to have Their Majesties visit Callander, but we are advised that is impossible," Mr. Nixon said.

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian schoolchildren have been asked to sing the Weir version of "O Canada" during the visit of the King and Queen, rather than any other version. The appeal was made by the interdepartmental committee in charge of details for the visit.

First verse and chorus of the Weir version follow:

O Canada! Our home and native land!
True patriot-love in all thy sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The true north, strong and free.
We stand on guard, O Canada,
We stand on guard for thee.

O Canada, glorious and free
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee!

The tune was written by Calixa Lavallee and the first lyrics, in French, by Judge Adolphe Routhier of Quebec in 1888. Robert Stanley Weir, Montreal judge and poet, wrote the English version 20 years later, in 1908.

Logging Camps On Coast Reopen

Men Return to Woods After Long Shutdown Price of Fir Logs Low

British Columbia's main industry and source of employment, the harvesting of timber, is reopening. Thousands of loggers are moving out of Vancouver and other centres into camps all along the coast. By the middle of this month the industry will be operating at normal speed, following a long winter shutdown.

The timber industry, with the loggers swarming back to work, is colorful and exciting, but more important to British Columbia is the money which it brings here from foreign countries. Millions of dollars worth of trees are being cut and sold and the money paid for them is British Columbia's largest source of wealth.

The industry reopens with a sluggish log market and with prices of fir logs down $1 a thousand feet since the first of the year.

It is hoped market conditions will improve and enable the camps to remain open until the forest fire season, when it is expected the government will follow a policy inaugurated last year and proclaim a closure on all woods operations. Meanwhile, despite a heavy decline in log prices, wages in the woods remain this spring on the 1937 level.

The timber industry and the government enter this year's operations on a new basis of complete co-operation in plans for fighting fire, the chief enemy of British Columbia's forests. Under arrangements now being perfected by Hon. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, and leading timber operators, the government will be able to secure at a moment's notice all the fire-fighting machinery owned by the industry.

As the development of caterpillar tractors has revolutionized fire-fighting methods, the new arrangement will make it unnecessary for the forest service to invest huge sums in such machinery.

City Hall Briefs

Workmen, painting the outside of the City Hall, had finished the first coat on the Pandora Avenue side shortly after noon today and had turned onto the Douglas Street facade. In the interior, reorganization of offices was under way, with carpenters rearranging the old purchasing agent's office for the solicitor. The purchasing agent now has quarters on the ground floor near the Pandora entrance.

The health committee met this afternoon to discuss demolition of shacks and consider further methods of providing adequate public conveniences during the Royal Visit. The group was not expected to deal with the hospital question at the session.

A permit for $7,500 alterations to Tergeson's Service Station, 1111 Blanshard Street, was issued by the building inspector this week. Fred Gardiner was listed as architect and D. W. Burnett, contractor.

The 5 per cent amusement tax on skaters at roller and ice rinks has been lifted by the provincial taxation department, it was announced here. The change, it was said, affects only a few hundred dollars of revenue. The relief applies only to actual skaters. The tax still applies on admissions to hockey games, carnivals or other entertainments at the rinks. The levy was removed because it was not regarded as a fair tax on skaters who actually provide their own amusement.

Schubert Club Recital Charms

Another Success Scored By Victoria Women Singers

G. J. D.

The Schubert Club was heard under favorable circumstances in a recital at the Shrine Auditorium last night. Its founder, Frederic King, was, as usual, its adroit conductor. Alderman B. J. Gadsden, who organized the Sunshine Inn, for which the concert was arranged, was present, to give some particulars regarding it.

The Schuberts wears well, and in its many years of singing, has upheld its good standards and last night's excellent eduction may well be written in the records as one of their best performances.

The singers were evidently on their mettle and responded alertly to the wishes of its exacting director who, in one of his best moods, educed the fact that the members have learned how to sing softly and to keep strong while doing so.

In this respect were the numbers: "Whither" (Schubert); "How Sweet the Moonlight Sleeps," a beautiful bit of singing. This number and Dudley Buck's "On the Sea," that followed it, found the group at their very best.

Percy Fletcher's "Cloud" and "Nature's Resurrection," by Woodman, "Prayer of Thanksgiving" (Kremser), which could have been a trifle faster, and in Spross's "Let All My Life Be Music," were full toned, nicely balanced, and sung most effectively, meeting with enthusiastic applause.

SOLOISTS

Pierre Timp, always popular, is gaining in experience and has evidently learned the thin line of demarkation between sentiment and sentimentality; that the slightest exaggeration may give an impression of artificiality or "theatricalism." In range and power he controls his fine voice and "speaks" his sentences with admirable effect. In his two groups of songs he was especially impressive in Schubert's "Impatience,' and "The Horn," by Flegier. Later, with Shelia Conway, soprano, he took part in the two duets, "The Manly Heart" (Mozart) repeated, and "Calm as the Night."

Sheila Conway was impressive in her two solo groups. She was clear and true to the note and in her always improving artistry achieved excellent results, especially in the "Scene and Gavotte" from Massenet's "Manon," and in Grieg's "A Dream.'

Ruth Helen Tait, with a genuine contralto voice of rare quality, once more gave the impression of being wholly at one with the song in which she takes part, and her two numbers Schumann's "The Lotus Flower," and Schubert's "Death and the Maiden," were moving performances.

The adequate and sympathetic accompanists were Helen Ockenden and Grace Timp, the former more particularly accompanying the Schuberts.

Three times in a week Monsieur Fatio and his aides, Messrs. Flinley and Glaves, of the Hollywood Marionette Theatre entertained the students of city schools. Last Thursday afternoon the puppet show which had been playing in the city for some time was put on in the Victoria High School auditorium for high school and Victoria College students. Yesterday two shows were put on for the students of public schools. Some 3,000 students attended the three showings of the puppets. The three audiences were the largest and probably the most attentive the puppets performed before in Victoria.

Smith-Runyan Defeat Champs

Whip Revolta and Picard To Reach Final of $5,000 Fourball Golf Event

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—Horton Smith and Paul Runyan surged into the finals of the $5,000 international fourball golf tournament yesterday by whipping Johnny Revolta and Henry Picard, three-time winners, and were to meet Ralph Guldahl and Sam Snead today for top money.

Guldahl and Snead defeated Lawson Little and Tony Manero, 1 up in 36 holes, the same score by which Smith and Runyan survived.

The tenseness of the semifinal matches, which weren't decided until the last putt on the final green, overshadowed two remarkable shots by members of the losing teams.

Picard cut loose with the best single shot of the day, a hole in one of the 165-yard second hole, and Little scored a great eagle three on the 550-yard 15th.

The ace, which electrified a gallery of 1,000 persons, was the first in the 16-year history of the tournament.

Picard swung smoothly with a five iron, the ball hit the green 12 feet short of the pin, hopped twice and skittered into the cup.

Toe Blake Adds To Scoring Lead

Hector (Toe) Blake of Canadiens pulled another point ahead of the idle Dave (Sweeney) Schriner of Americans last night when he scored a goal as the Montreal team draw 2 to 2 at New York with the Rangers. Blake's 41-point total is three points better than Schriner's goal-assist score. Paul Haynes of Canadiens moved into a six-way tie for fifth place by drawing an assist on Blake's tally.

Leaders follow:

	G.	A.	Pts.
Blake, Canadiens	19	22	41

GUNGA DIN AIDS PAL—Cary Grant, as Sergeant Cutter in "Gunga Din," lavish military spectacle adapted by RKO Radio from Rudyard Kipling's famous ballad of East Indian adventure, is a prisoner, but is comforted by the faithful regimental water-carrier (Sam Jaife). HOSTAK SCORES EARLY KNOCKOUT

Opens Comeback With Three-round Kayo of Johnny Erjavec at Seattle

SATTLE (AP) — Al Hostak of Seattle, former middleweight champion, successfully started a comeback last night by knocking out Johnny Erjavec of Chicago with a right to the jaw in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout. Hostak weighed 159, Erjavec 167¾.

In his first fight since he broke his hands in losing the title to Solly Krieger here last November, Hostak found an opening and laid the Chicago boy out cold.

Erjavec tried to get up after the count of 10 but fell backwards and had to be helped from the ring.

Hostak started cautiously in the first, then popped Johnny with his left and winced. For the rest of the first and all the second, Al just waved and pawed with his left, obviously saving it.

Erjavec landed a few body blows in the slow second, when the dull action brought scattered boos.

'Kentucky' On Atlas Screen

Zanuck's Ranch Used In Production of Famous Racing Film

For the first time since he established his own ranch for polo ponies, Darryl F. Zanuck allowed a movie company to move in and use it as a location. The occasion was the filming of "Kentucky," the 20th Century-Fox Technicolor production showing today at the Atlas Theatre.

The production staff, headed by Director David Butler, was hunting for a farm location which would film a natural color and in the report submitted on locations it was found that Zanuck's own ranch was included. After considering the various sites, Mr. Zanuck's was selected as ideal.

Loretta Young, Richard Greene, Walter Brennan, Douglas Dumbrille, Karen Morley and Moroni Olson and the entire supporting cast moved in for a three-day stay.

'Gunga Din' Now At Capitol

Grant, McLaglen, Fairbanks, Teamed In Kipling Story

Teamed together for the first time, Cary Grant, Victor McLaglen and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. are seen as three comrades sergeants whose adventures form the basis of the stirring screen version of the famous ballad by Rudyard Kipling, "Gunga Din," now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

The three stars, each of whom has soared to new fame in recent months, portray a trio of British soldiers stationed at an army post in northern India. Their exciting experiences while trying to quell an uprising among a band of religious fanatics, who commit wholesale murder according to religious rites, provide the dramatic action of the story.

Joan Fontaine has the leading feminine part in "Gunga Din," the title role of which is portrayed by Sam Jaffe. Other players are Eduardo Ciannelli, Montagu Love, Robert Coote and Abner Biberman.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Bob Burns, the man who put Van Buren, Arkansas, on the map, plays a character from his native state for the first time in his latest film, "The Arkansas Traveler," which Paramount is now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre. Burns is seen as a happy-go-lucky wandering printer who causes a political revolution in a small town when he takes over the editorship of the local newspaper. He is teamed with Fay Bainter.

Japan Desires to Keep Friendships

Too Much Interference By Trouble-makers, Says Com. K. Takeuchi

VANCOUVER (CP) — Japan wishes to maintain her old friendships with the democratic nations and, if there is not too much interference from trouble-making third parties, it can be done, according to Commander Kaoru Takeuchi, naval attache at the Japanese Legation at Ottawa.

"What Foreign Minister Arita said in parliament on Monday expresses, I believe, the true feeling of Japanese people to England and America," Commander Takeuchi said in an interview before embarking on the Nippon Yusen Kaisya liner Hikawa Maru, en route to his home in Japan after three years in Canada.

(The Japanese Foreign Minister had said that Japanese diplomacy is not limited to the anti-comintern pact with Italy and Germany, that its feelings toward the democracies is of the friendliest and that it hopes to improve its relations with them.)

Commander Takeuchi urged Canadians to remember that sensational reports from Japan of an anti-British attitude have to be taken "with a grain of salt."

"After all, in your country, too, people say and do things that the majority do not believe are right," he said.

He said the customary term at his post in Ottawa was two years, but that he "liked Canada and the Canadians so much I managed to get it extended 14 months.

"Except for the little misunderstanding about 18 months ago when the motives of Japan were not properly understood, our friendship has always been maintained," he continued. "At Ottawa my wife and I have met Canadians from all the provinces and made hundreds of friends, and from them I know the feeling of most Canadians toward Japan is the friendliest."

The Japanese naval commander said he believed the Sino-Japanese war was entering its final stage. Speaking of relations with Russia and clashes on the Siberia border, he said:

"We do not want a war. Why war over such a silly, small thing? There are people in Russia who have trouble enough in their own country and who might want to make a war to make light of that trouble. But I do not think the Russian people want to fight any more than we do."

Ss. Nolisement Listed Badly

Vessel Which Loaded Here Puts Into Long Beach, Cal.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Listing at a 30-degree angle when her water ballast was released here yesterday, the British freighter Nolisement was steadied only after fuel oil had been pumped into her bunkers.

Depleted fuel supplies had caused the 3,174-ton vessel, with Pacific northwest lumber stacked far above her decks and crowding her holds, to list badly all day as she neared this port. All hands stood ready to jump to safely as she heeled over at her pier. She is carrying her lumber cargo to South Africa.

The Nolisement was at Victoria February 15 from Shanghai.

She took 500,000 feet at the Canadian National docks and completed on the mainland and at Port Alberni. She is under charter to the North Pacific Shipping Company Ltd.

Her master is Capt. R. J. Lee.

Col. Spencer Takes Clipper to China

VANCOUVER (CP)—Col. Nelson Spencer, Vancouver lumber exporter, left here by airplane today for Seattle on the first lap of an aerial jaunt that will take him to Hongkong, Shanghai and other Chinese cities.

Col. Spencer will embark on the Pan-American Clipper for Hongkong at San Francisco Thursday.

Whitemore Named to Salmon Commission

OTTAWA (CP)—The Department of Fisheries announced today A. J. Whitemore, head of the western division in the fisheries service here, has been appointed a member of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission, succeeding as the department's representative on the commission W. A. Found, who recently retired as federal deputy Minister of Fisheries.

Other Canadian commissioners are A. L. Hager, Vancouver, chairman, and Tom Reid, Liberal M.P., New Westminster.

Plane Wreckage Found at Valdez

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Wreckage discovered on Valdez Island, about 10 miles south of here in the Strait of Georgia, has been identified as that of a Vickers flying boat which crashed on the Fraser River five years ago, Pilot Clark escaping uninjured in a parachute.

The wreckage was found by Constables Fred Boyt and J. Fianda of the British Columbia launch P.M.L. 6.

It was believed at first that the wreckage might be that of a Ginger Coote airways plane which disappeared nearly a year ago with four persons on a flight from Vancouver to Zeballos, B.C., a mining community on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Identity of the wreckage was established by R. Carter Guest of Vancouver, district inspector of aviation, and N. C. Terry, resident inspector of the civil aviation department.

Halibut Season Opens April 1

VANCOUVER (CP)—Halibut vessels from Vancouver, Seattle, Prince Rupert and other United States and British Columbia coast ports will gather on the halibut banks, extending from Washington and Oregon north to the Alaska coast, for the opening of the halibut fishing season on April 1.

Crew Aboard Rugeley

Twenty members of the crew of the British freighter Rugeley, who were held at the William Head quarantine station as suspects, have been released and are back in their quarters aboard the ship today.

The vessel will be held here until March 13, when a new chief and second engineer are due to arrive from England.

By that time it is expected that Capt. William H. Hall and some of his officers will be ready for release from quarantine.

Nine of the Rugeley's complement are still in hospital at William Head.

BOSTON (AP) — News two large icebergs had been sighted within 35 miles of a North Atlantic steamship lane spurred activity today aboard the United States coastguard cutter Chelan, which will leave here tomorrow for international ice patrol duty.

OCTOBER GRAINS FALL TO NEW LOW

WINNIPEG (CP) — Sustained outside selling due to weakness at Liverpool and reports the United Kingdom is disposing of emergency wheat stocks brought substantial losses to Winnipeg wheat futures prices today. At the finish values were 1¼ to 1⅛ cent lower, May at 60⅞, July 61⅝ and October 62¼.

October wheat, oats, rye and barley broke old lows to sell at new low prices for the crop year.

A few loads of Canadian export wheat were reported worked from both seaboards on the price recession. The session was one of the most active in recent weeks.

Liverpool slipped ½ to ¾d, while Chicago registered losses of nearly a cent. Buenos Aires continued unchanged.

Yesterday's country marketings totaled 119,000 bushels against 150,000 for the corresponding day a year ago.

Apart from minor interest in the lower grades for the opening of navigation, operations in cash wheat were at a minimum. Coarse grain prices dipped slightly.

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat values here and in foreign markets dropped about a cent a bushel today as a result of selling based largely on fears that Argentine may soon have to press her wheat more aggressively on the world market. Export demand from Europe was very slow pending developments.

Liverpool and Winnipeg markets led the decline which was followed here. Moderate commercial buying helped to support the market.

Wheat closed ⅝ to ⅞ lower than yesterday, May 67¾ to 67⅞, July 68 to 68⅛, and corn was ½ to ¾ down, May 48¼ to 48⅜, July 49¾. Oats were ⅛ to ½ lower.

Stocks Soar to '39 Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed its advance with a more confident stride today and many shares climbed 1 to 4 points, some to the highest prices recorded this year. The Dow Jones industrial averages crossed 150 to go into new high ground.

Dealings, which slackened as the market hesitated at the outset of the week, again broadened out as some of the old-line favorites encountered persistent buying.

American Telephone extended its advance into new high ground. Also at new highs for the year or longer were Montgomery-Ward, Public Service of New Jersey, Sears-Roebuck, Greyhound, National Biscuit and National Dairy.

Wall Street found its chief sources of inspiration in London and Washington. Rising security markets in the British money centre and Washington reports indicating tax revision and other moves to stimulate business drew favorable attention in speculative quarters.

Transactions approximated 900,000 shares.

Rail bonds set a brisk rising pace in that market. But major farm commodities weakened.

In a heavy turnover, General Motors went to a new 1939 high, following publication of the corporation's monthly sales figures. February sales to United States consumers were 83,251 units, against 62,831 in the 1938 month. Dupont, with large holdings in General Motors, spurted also.

Steels rallied from an early dip to join the main advance. Aviations chimed in on the upside in late dealings. Bethlehem, U.S. Steel and Douglas were among the strong spots.

Canadian shares were touched with irregularity. Dome, Distillers and Dominion Stores moved around ½, but Lake Shore dipped a major fraction and Canadian Pacific showed a narrower decline. Canada 4s were neglected

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:
30 industrials 151.43, up 2.05
20 rails 33.66, up 0.86
15 utilities 26.24, up 0.27
40 bonds 92.00, up 0.48
Total sales—1,050,000.

The Oceans and Ocean Life

3—WORK OF THE WAVES

We hear of ocean waves "as high as houses," and there really are such waves. On most days in my ocean voyages, the weather has been good and the water calm. The waves did not rise more than five or 10 feet. Now and then, however, the ocean has seemd "angry," and I have seen mighty waves rising so high that they broke over an open deck 25 or 30 feet above the usual waterline.

Remains of chalk cliffs on coast of France. High ocean waves have cut them away.

In heavy storms, ovean waves in mid-ocean sometimes rise higher than a four-story building. Along the coasts, the waves on a stormy day may batter against cliffs and send spray to heights of more than 100 feet! There is power in those waves, great power. They often strike with a force of more than a ton to the square foot. In furious storms, the force has been found to be as much as three tons to the square foot!

The pounding of the waves wears away cliffs. The waves hit the lower layers of rock with most force, and keep breaking them to bits. In time, the lower rock is worn so deeply that the ledges above tumble down. Slowly but surely the fallen rock is ground to pieces.

The work of the waves is important in human life. It changes the shore line as the centuries go by.

Shore currents carry much of the ground-up rock to low regions along the coasts. As a result we may find large stretches covered with pebbles and sand. People often use such places as bathing beaches.

Storm waves sometimes damage cities and villages along the coast. One terrible event of this kind took place on the eastern coast of India in 1864. Storm waves swept over a city, and close to 30,000 persons were drowned.

Besides storm waves, we have the so-called "tidal waves." They are caused by earthquakes or volcanoes, not by the motion of the tides.

When Krakatoa exploded in August, 1883, huge waves—some of them 100 feet high—were set up. We are told that their outward motion was at the rate of 350 miles per hour.

When we speak of the "motion" of waves, we must remember that little of the water moves in any way except up and down. The water in waves seems to move quickly across the sea, but most of it stays in the very same part of the ocean.

If you have looked at a field of growing hay when a strong wind was blowing, you may have seen "waves" running across it. Yet, in such a case, the hay stalks do not move from their positions.

When a volcano sets up waves, a force passes through the water at high speed. After the Krakatoa explosion, people at a distance of more than 2,000 miles saw waves, it had made.

HOROSCOPE

Thursday, March 9, 1939

Through this day adverse planetary aspects may be unusually strong. Risks of all sorts should be avoided. Accidents may be prevalent.

While this configuration continues executives and business leaders may be uneasy.

Under this sway a fatalistic aspect may be widespread as the idea that "what must be will be" is accepted. Portents of war will be many, but the seers foresee months of peace for the United States.

Women appear to be subject to adverse planetary government today which is unfavorable to mental poise and conducive to unrest and apprehension. They should discipline themselves and control their nerves.

This is an unlucky day for romances. Men may be critical and exacting. Husbands are likely to be difficult to handle.

Quarrels are easily started under this direction of the stars which fosters super-sensitiveness and self-approbation. Criticism will be more general than usual and will be directed toward objects great and small.

Sedition in India will add to the anxieties of the British Empire, which will experience a summer of supreme difficulties.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of pleasant surprises in which financial matters will be satisfactory. For many this is to be a 12 months of varied romances.

Children born on this day may be analytical and keen, but indifferent regarding their own faults. Actors belong to this sign of Pisces as do explorers.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a widow 50 years old and have two daughters who are working away from home. A widower of my own age wants me to marry him, as both of us have such lonely lives. I have a small income which keeps me nicely, but which will stop if I marry. The man has nothing. Do you think sacrificing one's income for perhaps a happy but poor future is advisable?

MAVES.

Answer: I certainly do not. An oldish woman's best friend is her pocketbook, and she should hold on to that until death itself loosens her clasp. If you give up a settled, comfortable income for a little make-believe romance you will spend the balance of your life regretting it.

I am not throwing cold water on a woman of 50 marrying. On the contrary, I think it is a fine thing for her to do if she can make a suitable match, or even if she is able to indulge in the luxury of supporting a husband for the sake of his society. As people get older they do need companionship, somebody to sit by the fire with and talk over old times, somebody to cook for and coddle and nurse, but all of this needs financial backing and, if you haven't it, the whole scheme falls through.

You are comfortable now with your assured little income. Think how miserable you would be if that was gone and you didn't know where the next meal was coming from, nor how you would get the rent money, or pay for a scuttle of coal. And think how your burden would be doubled if you had a helpless husband hanging on to you. Believe me, you would be a lot lonelier than you are now. If this man you are contemplating marrying had enough money to support you in comfort when your own income is gone, I would say go ahead to the parson and heaven bless you, my children. But as he hasn't anything to live on, I say don't do it. For if you do the fool-killer will get you sure.

DOROTHY DIX.

Veterans Radio Collectors

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, told the House of Commons yesterday that only returned soldiers would be employed as house-to-house collectors of radio licenses in future, but no change had been made in the method of selecting and appointing collectors. The change to veterans was made as the result of an agreement between the Canadian Legion and officials of the Transport Department.

Mr. Howe said members of Parliament were asked to organize their constituencies and determine the number of collectors needed.

M.P.'S GIVE VIEWS ON SWEEPSTAKES

OTTAWA (CP)—A bill to legalize sweepstakes in Canada for hospital and educational purposes was talked out on its second reading in the House of Commons last night. The measure drops to the bottom of the list of private members' bills, but will likely be reached again this session.

The bill as advocated by J. L. Vital Mallette, Liberal, Jacques Cartier, Montreal, would amend the Criminal Code to permit sweepstakes organized by a provincial government or under a provincial law, not more than one being held in each province in one year. A similar bill was talked out last session.

Mr. Mallette asked why sweepstakes were prohibited by law when people could trade on margin on the grain exchange, when they could gamble on the mining market or bet at race tracks. The people of Quebec favored the bill. Provinces not desiring sweepstakes would not be compelled to operate them.

He cited, too, the endorsation of the British Columbia Legislature and the Vancouver city council for legalizing of sweepstakes.

In recent days, he and other members had received a flood of postcards urging a national system of scholarships. Sweepstakes would provide a painless way of raising such funds.

Rev. Dan McIvor, Liberal, Fort William, declared that if the House approved that bill and continued to open its daily sessions with the Lord's Prayer, the members would be making themselves "a bunch of hypocrites."

He insisted sweepstakes were bad economics and bad morality. "You don't find many Hebrews buying sweepstake tickets because they know what is good and bad business. You don't find the Scotch buying them."

"They sell them," someone interrupted.

Senate Railway Probe to Go On

Committee Instructed to Continue; Meighen and Dandurand Clash

OTTAWA (CP) — The special Senate committee which made a lengthy inquiry into the Canadian Railway problem last year is expected to resume its investigation this session.

In the Senate last night a motion of Senator C. P. Beaubien, Conservative, Quebec, to reconstitute the committee was adopted after a vigorous exchange between Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader, and Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, on railway policy and on matters which the committee should discuss.

Senator Beaubien said the committee last year had had no opportunity to sift and analyze the evidence.

"We are still spending $100,000,000 a year on unemployment relief," said Senator Beaubien. At the same time the government proposed embarking on a scheme of public works. The government proposed also to assist agriculture, and defence expenditures were soaring.

On top of that, the Canadian National Railways this year would cost Canada $100,000,000. Of that, $52,000,000 would be for deficits and $48,000,000 for capital expenditures. Another $12,000,000 was to be spent in Montreal in the construction of the new terminal. Apparently the country was heading for a year of untold expenditure.

PARTY DECLARATIONS

Senator Dandurand said he was a little mystified about what the committee could do this session. The Liberal Party still stood by its 1935 declaration to operate the C.N.R. under public ownership and at the Conservative National Convention last July a resolution opposing unification of the C.N.R. and Canadian Pacific Railway was passed.

If the Conservatives adhered to those views the committee's work would be limited to co-operation, as contemplated in the 1935 Canadian National-Canadian Pacific Act.

If the C.P.R. would drop its constant effort for partnership with the C.N.R. and go into the matter of co-operation, the situation would be better, Senator Dandurand said.

Regarding the $12,000,000 to be spent on the Montreal terminal, Senator Dandurand said it was one of the important things that had to be done.

He knew Sir Edward Beatty, who wanted the Windsor Station as terminal, was dissatisfied.

To Senator Lendrum McMeans, Conservative, Manitoba, Senator Dandurand said $17,000,000 had already been spent in Montreal, and $12,000,000 more were needed to give the C.N.R. an adequate terminal. He felt the C.N.R. and Montreal owed it to themselves to have that central station.

SAYS POSITION CHANGED

Senator Meighen said he had never risen in the House with such a sense "of discouragement and disheartenment." He considered the government leader had completely shifted his position from that of last session.

The whole status of the Senate had been reduced by Mr. Dandurand's speech, said Mr. Meighen. To suggest the Upper House was affected in its attitude on the railway question by the position taken by a political party was ridiculous; but, if that were so, "the sooner the country calls for our abolition the better," declared the Conservative leader.

Senator Meighen painted a picture of increased taxation and increased governmental expenditures. These were bearing down on the people. There was never a duty bearing on Parliament more trenchant than that of finding some way out of the railway trouble. The Senate should not let the prospect of an election affect it.

Quadruplet Births No So Uncommon

WASHINGTON—The birth of quadruplets may be an exciting event to the family concerned, but medical statistics show that they are relatively common. They occur once in every 512,000 births. It is extremely rare, however, for all four to survive to adulthood. The Keys quadruplets of Oklahoma, all girls, are notable exceptions.

Even commoner are triplets and twins, the former occurring about once in 6,400 births and the latter once in 80 births. An easily remembered mathematical ratio for the occurrence of these multiple births is the following: Twins 1:80.1, triplets 1:80.2, quadruplets 1:80.3. The raio does not apply, however, to the higher multiple births which occur less frequently.

Would Tax Profits Of Non-residents

WINNIPEG (CP) — A tax of 5 per cent on all money paid to nonresidents from wealth produced in Manitoba, proposed in a resolution by S. E. Rogers, Social Credit leader, was supported in the Legislature yesterday by S. J. Farmer, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation leader.

Mr. Rogers claimed enough wealth was produced in the province to raise the standard of living without a market for wheat.

Debate on the resolution was adjourned by Attorney-General W. J. Major, who said Provincial Treasurer Stuart Garson, who was not present, wished to speak on it before it came to a vote.

Reshaped Policies Urged for Canada

TORONTO (CP)—The policies of Canada's political parties must be reshaped and readapted to meet changing conditions as the Dominion is "crying out" for leadership, John Bassett, president of the Montreal Gazette Printing Company Limited, said here last night.

Addressing the annual dinner held in connection with the Dominion curling championships, Mr. Bassett said a united Canada was needed in a storm-wracked world. "I would warn the leaders of political parties in this country that Canadian unity never will be made an issue in any election of the future."

Mr. Bassett congratulated C. George McCullagh, pulisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, for his "patriotism and singleness of purpose" expressed in recent addresses in which Mr. McCullagh appealed to Canadian legislators to "forget party advantage and co-operate for the common good."

British Proposals For Employment

LONDON (CP)—A four-point plan to deal with unemployment was urged on the government yesterday by the Methodist Church in Great Britain.

The executive of the church's social welfare department issued a statement advocating:

Provision of necessary public works, measure to raise low wage rates, earlier retirement age, and examination of the practicability of family allowances.

Armaments expenditures "should not be made an excuse for continuance of these shameful, intolerable conditions," it said.
